OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY OF NEWFOUNDLAND,

MONDAY, JANUARY 28TH, 1850.

THE General Assembly having, by several Proclamations of His Excellency the Governor hereto prefixed, been prorogued until this day, then to meet for the dispatch of business, the members thereof accordingly met this day in the Assembly Room.

Members assemble,

At Two o'clock a Message was delivered by F. W. RENNIE, Esq., Usher of the Black Rod :—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly—

His Excellency the Governor commands your immediate attendance in the Council Chamber.

Message from His Excellency the Governor.

Accordingly, Mr. Speaker and the Members of the House of Assembly present attended His Excellency the Governor in the Council Chamber, and being returned, Members attend His Excellency.

Mr. SPEAKER having taken the chair, reported that the House had been in attendance on His Excellency the Governor, and that His Excellency had been pleased to make a Speech, of which Mr. Speaker said he had, to prevent mistakes, obtained a copy, and which he read to the House as follows:—

Mr. President and Honorable Gentlemen of the Council—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly—

Speech,

I have convened you at the usual period of the year for the consideration of the affairs of the Colony, relying with full confidence on your deliberations on the important interests committed to your charge being resumed in a spirit which will attest your zeal for the public welfare.

In the late lamented death of Adelaide, the Queen Dowager, we have to deplore the loss of a most excellent Princess, and which will be mourned by all classes of Her Majesty's subjects, to whom her many eminent virtues rendered her the object of universal esteem and affection.

You will all, I am confident, unite with one voice in thanksgiving to Almighty God, that he has been so graciously and mercifully pleased to avert from this land that grievous pestilence the Cholera, with which other parts of this Empire have been so sorely afflicted.

It is also a cause of grateful acknowledgement that a bountiful Providence has, during the past season, vouchsafed an ample reward to the toil of our hardy fishermen, whose prosperity is essential to the welfare of the colony, and by the successful result of whose labours the energy of commercial enterprise is promoted.

It is further pleasing to me to be able to inform you that the results of the agriculture of the colony for the past year have more than realized the anticipations of those favourable to the experiment, and the progress made during that brief period has been such as to lead to the most encouraging anticipations for the future. The promotion of this branch of industry will merit your fostering care and encouragement, whether viewed in the light of a powerful auxiliary to the staple trade of the colony, or as a means of promoting some additional subsistence for our rapidly increasing population, for whose support the fisheries alone are becoming now inadequate.

As the Education Act will expire at the close of the present Session, the state of Education in the colony will necessarily engage your attention; from the reports received of the condition of many of the Schools, a more efficient system of instruction is urgently required. Although our financial condition will not, I regret to say, admit of any increase being made to the present grant, yet the system is susceptible of much improvement, and I hope the Session will not be allowed to pass without the adoption of some measure that will secure a more effective superintendence of the Schools generally throughout the Colony.

I will cause to be laid before you copies of several Despatches which have been received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly—

The Accounts and Estimates will be laid before you. I feel confident of your readiness to provide for all that is necessary for the public service, and in the expenditure of the monies placed at the disposal of the Executive, you may rest assured that the utmost economy, consistent with the exigencies of the colony, will be observed.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Council—

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly—

I feel assured that your best endeavours will be exercised to afford by wise legislation all practical extension and developement to the trade and productive capabilities of this Island; and in the measures calculated to effect those important ends, and in your labours for the advancement of the welfare of all classes of the community, you may rely upon my cordial co-operation and support.

Mr. JOB presented the report of his proceedings in England in reference to the Address of this House on the Fisheries of Newfoundland to Her Most Gracious Majesty and both Houses of Parliament, agreeable to instructions contained in a resolution of this House passed on the 23rd day of April last, and the same was received and read as follows:—

R E P O R T.

In conformity with a resolution of the Honorable the House of Assembly passed on the 23rd of April last, in which it was declared that I should take charge of those copies of the Memorial on the subject of the Fisheries which were to be placed in the hands of certain Members of both Houses of Parliament, for presentation and support in those bodies; and that I should call at the Colonial Office and urge the prayer of said Memorial on the attention of the Government,

Report of Mr. Job of proceedings in England on the Address to the Home Government on the state of the Fisheries.

I beg leave to report, that soon after my arrival in England I proceeded to London, taking with me the said several Documents confided to my care.

As the Parliamentary Session was fast drawing to a close, I lost no time in attending to the object of my mission, and having obtained from J. Bramley Moore, Esq., Mayor of Liverpool, letters of introduction to the Earl of Harrowby and the Members for the Borough, Sir Thomas Birch and Mr. Cardwell, I waited on his Lordship and handed to him the Memorial to the House of Lords, laying before him at the same time such information as I thought it well he should possess in reference to the subject. His Lordship received me with great courtesy, and listened with interest to the statements and suggestions I offered for his consideration; and, on the 5th July, he presented the Memorial to the House of Lords, on which occasion His Lordship briefly but ably stated the views of the Legislature on the important subjects embraced.

The Memorial to the House of Commons was handed to G. R. Robinson, Esq., and presented by him on the day following. This long-trying friend of Newfoundland entered into the question with his accustomed zeal, and in presenting the Memorial, earnestly directed the attention of the House to the grievances of which it complained, and which he urged as being entitled to their grave consideration. Mr. Robinson had, previous to my arrival, given notice of his intention to bring the subject of our Fisheries before the House of Commons in the next Session, which I trust the improved state of his health will enable him to carry out with effect.

The communications addressed by this Assembly to the other Members of Parliament were also duly delivered, and I had personal interviews with Mr. Cardwell and Mr. McGregor, both of whom took a warm interest in our Colonial concerns, and expressed their willingness to advocate our interests whenever the matter became a subject of discussion in Parliament.

By special appointment, on the 4th July (accompanied by the Hon. Mr. Crowdy) I waited on the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and had a most gracious reception. I called His Lordship's attention to some of the leading points in the Memorial to the Queen, and especially to the want of protection to our Western Fisheries against the injurious encroachments of the French. To this Earl Grey replied that the views of Her Majesty's Government on the question of Free Trade might prevent any interference in this matter ; but he stated his intention of consulting with the First Lord of the Admiralty, when all that attention would be given to the subject which its importance demanded. His Lordship's attention was also called to the existing Treaties with France, and the injury we sustained by the infringements of the same, which were of annual recurrence. I spoke of the strong feeling of the Legislature on the subject, and of their great desire that the conditions of the Treaties should be enforced. On these, and other subjects of Colonial interest, His Lordship made several inquiries, and received, in some cases, information which he had not before possessed.

I had subsequently an interview with the Under Secretary of State, when the condition of the Fisheries, chiefly with reference to French competition, was again urged on the attention of Government ; and the fact of our being compelled to abandon the Deep-sea Fishery, was one which especially attracted the attention of Mr. Hawes, and elicited from that gentleman many important inquiries. I had just obtained the Public Ledger, of the 22nd June, containing the editorials of that and the other public journals relative to the Fisheries, called forth by an interesting letter published by Mr. C. F. Bennett, and this I handed to Mr. Hawes as an evidence of the unanimous opinion on the subject. On all points referred to in this interview, I was led to believe that he entertained sound, practical views of our position, and that when the question is considered, we may expect much benefit from his able and enlightened advocacy.

I had the advantage of an introduction from His Excellency the Governor to his brother, Sir Denis LeMarchant, Secretary of the Board of Trade, who expressed a deep interest in our affairs, and afforded me much assistance in obtaining for me a more ready access to the Public Offices. And I would here also desire to express my obligation to the Right Hon. Talbot Baines for much valuable aid of a similar character.

A well-known friend of Newfoundland, John Hatt Noble, Esq., formerly of Oporto, also afforded me many facilities in promoting the views of the Assembly, and his thorough acquaintance with the Trade rendered his advice useful to me on several occasions.

Taking into account the short time that intervened between my arrival in England and the prorogation of Parliament, it needed some exertion to accomplish the business entrusted to me; but with the exception of Viet. Mulgund and Messrs. Meagher and Baillie (who were absent from town) I succeeded in enlisting the interest of all the parties named in the resolution of the House.

The advanced period of the Session of Parliament would, of itself, have prevented any present proceedings beyond those above adverted to, but I have the satisfaction of believing that I have secured the interest of several influential Members, whose advocacy may be relied on whenever it may be required for the support of our interests; and if, as may be reasonably supposed, the visit of Admiral Lord Dundonald was induced by the Memorial of the Legislature to the Queen, it is a gratifying proof that the attention of the Government has been awakened to our condition, and a step taken in a direction most likely to result in additional means for securing protection to our fisheries.

To His Excellency Sir JOHN GASPARD LEMARCHANT, Knight and Knight Commander of the Orders of St. Ferdinand and of Charles the Third of Spain, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Island of Newfoundland and its Dependencies.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:—

We, Her Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Commons of Newfoundland in General Assembly convened, beg leave to thank Your Excellency for the Speech with which Your Excellency has been pleased to open the present Session of the Legislature.

We sincerely unite with Your Excellency in an expression of heartfelt gratitude to the Almighty Disposer of events for our merciful preservation from the Cholera which has proved so fatal in many other countries, and for having a second time spared this Island, when some of the neighbouring colonies were so severely visited by its ravages.

We entirely concur with Your Excellency in deploring the decease of Her Majesty the Queen Dowager, a lady whose warm benevolence and extensive charities have justly endeared her to all classes of Her Majesty's subjects, and whose munificence had been particularly extended to this colony.

We sincerely reciprocate the congratulations which Your Excellency has offered upon the success of our Fisheries, and upon the abundant crops which have rewarded the labours of our agriculturists; and we gladly avail ourselves of this opportunity of acknowledging the assistance and encouragement which Your Excellency has always given to the cultivation of the soil, not only as a valuable auxiliary of the fishery, but also as in itself an important branch of our industrial resources; and we assure Your Excellency of our readiness to assist in every plan having for its object the promotion of agriculture.

We regret that Your Excellency should be of opinion that our financial condition will not afford any increase in our Educational Grant; but we nevertheless indulge the hope that a close attention to economy in the various branches of our expenditure may enable us in some degree to add to the funds which should be available for a matter of such paramount importance.

We thank Your Excellency for the Despatches, Accounts, and Estimates which Your Excellency has directed to be laid before us, and for Your Excellency's promised assistance in our labours for the public good; and we assure Your Excellency of our sincere desire to co-operate in all measures tending to the extension of our trade, the developement of the productive capabilities of the island, and the advancement of the welfare and prosperity of our people.

Her late Majesty's Royal husband had particularly endeared himself to this island by the bestowal of a Local Legislature, and now that his virtuous consort has departed this earth, we are prompted to address Your Majesty on so melancholy an event, and to tender to Your Majesty our sincere condolence on the loss of a relative so illustrious, so benevolent, and so universally honored.

J. G. LEMARCHANT.

The Governor transmits to the House of Assembly the Copy of a Despatch which he has received from the Right Honorable the Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, authorising the appointment of a Resident Magistrate at the settlement of St. George's Bay, on the West Coast of this Island.

Message in reference to the appointment of a Magistrate in St. George's Bay.

The Governor deems it a circumstance of great importance that a settlement, hitherto without official recognition, in a portion of the Colony presenting prospects of an advantageous character, both to the Agriculturist and Merchant, should receive those benefits which naturally result from placing them under the protection of British Institutions.

As it is desirable that a gentleman of fitting qualifications should be selected for the office to be thus created, the Governor recommends to the House of Assembly to appropriate a sum not exceeding Three Hundred Pounds per annum for a Stipendiary Magistrate for the Western Coast of Newfoundland, to reside in St. George's Bay.

DOWNING STREET,

1st November, 1849.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your Despatch, No. 47, of the 14th September last, relative to the appointment of a Magistrate at St. George's Bay; and adverting to the legal question raised by your Despatch, I have to acquaint you that Her Majesty's Government are of opinion, that the establishment of such a Magistracy would not contravene any existing Treaty between Great Britain and France relative to Newfoundland; and you are therefore at liberty to make the appointment in question.

I have, &c.,

Governor Sir J. G. LEMARCHANT,
&c., &c., &c.

J. G. LE MARCHANT.

Message in reference to the appointment of a Land Surveyor.

Previously to the departure of Captain Spearman, late Collector of Her Majesty's Customs in this Island, from the Colony, he addressed a communication to the Governor, expressing in strong terms his opinion of the necessity of the situations of Landing Surveyor and Tide Surveyor which, in the Customs Bill of the previous Session had been combined, being filled by two persons.

Although the Governor attached considerable value to the opinions of an officer of so much talent and experience as Captain Spearman, he abstained from making the appointment so recommended, wishing that the system introduced in the last Session should be tested in the interval between the coming into operation of that Act and the meeting of the Legislature.

The Governor now submits to the House of Assembly, together with Captain Spearman's letter, a communication from the gentleman who has filled the two offices, and should the House, on consideration of these documents, concur in opinion with the Governor that the important duties now imposed on this officer are more than can be efficiently performed by one person, the Governor recommends that provision be made to an amount not exceeding two hundred-and-fifty pounds per annum for the separate office of Landing Surveyor.

(See Appendix.)

J. G. LEMARCHANT.

Message in reference to the defalcation of the late Colonial Treasurer.

The Governor transmits to the House of Assembly the Copy of a Report of an examination and audit of the Books and Accounts of the late Colonial Treasurer, which took place immediately on the decease of that gentleman, and before the appointment of his successor; and laments to state that upon this investigation it was ascertained that the Treasurer (of whose fidelity and integrity no previous suspicion had been entertained) was a Defaulter, in his joint capacity of Treasurer and Cashier of the Savings' Bank, to the very large amount of £6,610 19s. 5d. sterling—a deficiency which, in our financial condition, is the occasion of considerable present inconvenience.

The Governor has caused the necessary proceedings to be taken for enforcing payment of this defalcation, as well from the Estate, as from the Sureties of the late Treasurer.

Mr. HOYLES, from the Select Committee appointed to bring in a Bill for the encouragement of Education in this Island, presented the following Report:—

Report from Select Committee on Education.

The Select Committee upon Education in submitting to the House the accompanying Bill, beg respectfully to report that in introducing into it the principle of the sub-division of the Protestant Grant, the majority of the Committee do not mean to express any opinion in favour of such principle, nor to recommend its adoption to the House; and that they have permitted this measure to be presented in its present form because the practical operation of combined Protestant Schools being already known by the working of the existing Act, they have deemed it but fair to those who desire a separation in this respect to allow them the opportunity afforded by the introduction of a new Bill, of putting before the House and the public the details of the system which they advocate.

And then the Messenger withdrew.

The said Messages were then read by Mr. Speaker, all the members being uncovered, and are as follow:—

J. GASPARD LE MARCHANT.

The Governor acquaints the House of Assembly that by a recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of a claim by a proprietor of ground fronting on Gower-street, to compensate for damage sustained by the operation of the 6th section of the 9th and 10th Vic. c. 3, which prohibits the erection of Houses or Buildings within 25 feet of the centre of that Street, the Court has directed the Appraisers appointed under the 9th Section of the 10th Vic., c. 1, (whose power to adjudicate in such a case was doubtful) to hear the claim and award compensation for the damage suffered.

While the Governor is most anxious that full indemnification should be granted to the proprietor in question, and to all others similarly circumstanced, he invites the attention of the Assembly to the fact, that the decision pronounced in the case mentioned will necessarily involve the present hearing and adjudicating upon claims to compensation in a large class of cases in which the Legislature appear to have contemplated compensation should not be made until some future period—declaring that by reason of the expense of making compensation, the streets and firebreaks, in respect of which compensation might be claimed, should not be opened beyond certain limits.

Viewing the very serious addition to the public debt, already occasioned by the widening of the Streets of this Town, which would thus be incurred for future improvements, the Governor submits for the consideration of the Assembly the expediency of an alteration of the existing Law which, providing a fair and just compensation to the party damaged in the case in which the decision has been pronounced, and to all others similarly situated, will prevent the necessity for incurring present liabilities for the sake of future and contingent improvements of the Streets.

Mr. WINSER his notice of motion for the Address to His Excellency for Returns from the Bank of British North America till the same day.

Mr. SHEA, from the Select Committee appointed to inquire into the Financial State of the Colony, presented the Report, which he handed in at the Clerk's Table, where it was read, and is as follows:—

Report of the Financial Committee.

The Select Committee, appointed by your Honourable House to inquire into the financial condition of the Colony, with a view to such reductions and modifications of the public expenditure as circumstances might appear to demand, beg leave to report that they lost no time in applying themselves to the consideration of the important matters which claimed their attention. They conceived it to be primarily essential that a statement of the present position of the colony should be prepared, shewing its condition for the current year, and the aggregate amount of the public debt, with the years in which the several portions of it are payable. Such a statement would necessarily form the groundwork and guide for the proceedings of your Committee, and they accordingly, with as little delay as was compatible with its accurate compilation and adjustment, prepared and submitted to your Honourable House the Financial Statement which was laid on the table on the 22nd February.

That statement shews that on the 31st December next, the current balance against the colony will be £2655 1s. 10d., to which must be added the sum of £3630 5s. 8d. due by the late Colonial Treasurer. Should this amount not be liquidated in the meantime, there will thus be an excess of expenditure above receipts of £6285 7s. 6d. on the account of the year; and this, too, without any provision being made for that class of appropriations styled special votes, involving often claims which the Legislature cannot refuse. The whole amount of the public debt at the end of the present year, as far as it can now be ascertained, will be £104,194 19s. 2d. In this amount the Committee have not, of course, included the balances not yet borrowed on existing Loan Acts, because these amounts, or such portion of them as may hereafter be borrowed, will go in liquidation of existing charges, and involve no increase in the aggregate amount of the debt.

The Statement of the financial affairs of the Colony which is thus exhibited, though not of that satisfactory character which were desirable, discloses, at the same time, nothing to create alarm or discouragement. It is true that from a variety of causes, which it is unnecessary to enumerate, a heavy debt has accumulated, and the colony in the present year cannot meet the charges upon it; and it is therefore manifest that the public faith cannot be maintained without a change in the disposition of our receipts and expenditure. This view is so clearly denoted in the statement submitted to your honourable House, that your Committee feel assured the Legislature will concur in the necessity of giving to it a practical development on those grounds which justice will sanction and the country may approve. And it is because your Committee have confidence that the House will deal wisely with this important question, that they see in the present condition of our affairs no reasonable grounds for apprehension as to the result.

The present conjuncture points to one of two courses. The colony is clearly unable to meet the present ordinary charges upon it and to provide for the redemption of the public debt, unless indeed the Legislature are prepared to affirm that all public improvement shall cease. These courses are, increased taxation on the one hand—and on the other, a reasonable modification of our present expenditure. Between these alternatives it appears to your Committee that the Legislature must determine its choice, for the necessity of resorting to either is clearly manifested by the present state of our financial affairs.

On this position of the case, your Committee would observe, that apart from the strong objections the country would entertain to any increase of the public burthens, they do not conceive that such increase is either necessary or desirable. In a colony like this a gross revenue of £60,000 a year ought to be, and the Committee think, is, sufficient for all legitimate demands upon it, and that its expenditure should be regulated in subservience to this view. This principle has not hitherto governed the proceedings of the Legislature, and, to a certain extent, the departure from it was unavoidable. It is not, however, with those proceedings your Committee have desired to deal, but with the facts which are now before them, and the antecedents are now referred to in connexion with these facts, to shew that the principles your Committee would urge will need a change in the system which has hitherto prevailed in the public appropriations.

That faith shall be kept intact with the public creditor, and a fair proportion of the revenue be allocated to purposes of public improvement, are positions which, your Committee feel assured, will be responded to by your honourable House. In the present posture of affairs where the financial difficulties have been seriously induced by claims arising from the necessities of the people since the period of the fire, and from the improvement of the capital, it would perhaps be unjust to other interests if views of public improvement were now urged to the extent which, in ordinary times, would be justified by their abstract importance; and these special reasons have been duly weighed by your Committee in the consideration of this question. They are accordingly of opinion that for the present the improvement of the country should proceed but on a modified scale, say to such an extent as to prevent former appropriations from being lost to the colony. The maintenance of these views, without an augmentation of taxes, is incompatible with the sustainment of the present official expenditure, and after careful and anxious inquiry your Committee are brought to the conclusion which necessity seems to dictate—that a moderate reduction should be made on all the official incomes in the colony. The sacrifices this may in some instances entail, your Committee could most willingly avoid; but it is assuredly a matter of paramount concern, and in which the welfare of the government as well as of the country is concerned, to guard against the evils of financial embarrassment, and to restore to the public resources that necessary vitality and public confidence which alone can give a foundation to the future progress and improvement of the colony.

Such are the reasons which have led your Committee to the conclusion that a reduction of the official expenditure is a just measure, and indispensable as one of the means of placing the financial affairs of the colony on a satisfactory basis. This reduction they would not desire to see carried beyond the limits that necessity demands, and would therefore propose that a uniform rate of 10 per cent. be deducted from all official incomes in the colony. By this measure a sum of £2474 would be made available towards the defrayal of uncovered liabilities, while the abstraction would not be more than a reasonable contingent to the necessities of the country from those who have so deep an interest in its conservation and stability.

This principle the Committee would also recommend to be applied to the contingencies of the Legislature.

In the estimates laid before the House for 1850, the Committee have observed several items which they think may be omitted from the appropriations, viz. :—

Registration of Voters.....	150	0	0
Clearing snow from St. John's streets.....	100	0	0
Almanac.....	25	0	0

They would also recommend that the following offices shall remain vacant on the demise or retirement of the incumbents, viz. :—

Private Secretary.

The first Protestant vacancy in the Police Magistracy, St. John's.

The first vacancy in the Magistracy, Harbour Grace.

These changes, the Committee apprehend could be effected without any detriment to the public service. A saving may also be made by blending the office of Chairman of Roads with that of Supervisor, there being, moreover, a natural connexion between the duties of both.

Your Committee would further suggest whether it would not be desirable in filling up future vacancies in the offices of the government, that the question of salary should be specifically left open for the consideration of the Legislature.

The Committee have not overlooked the question of the debt contracted in the improvement of the town, which so far exceeded the amount contemplated by the Legislature. Viewing this question with regard to the enhanced value which has hereby been given to property, they cannot regard the debt as one which should be wholly borne by the colony; and they would strongly recommend to your honourable House to consider whether the equity of the case would not demand that a portion of such debt should be made a charge on the owners of the land who have so largely benefited by the changes effected under the Street Act. The question is, assuredly, involved in some difficulty, but your Committee think the effort should not be wanting to relieve the colony of so much of the liability as your honourable House shall consider to belong of right to a peculiar interest.

The question of making a certain portion of the debt permanent stock was also considered by your Committee, with a view to the relief it might afford in any general scheme of provision for the settlement of the debt. The advantages of such a plan are not unperceived by your Committee, but they are of opinion that these may be fully obtained without recourse to a measure against which some objection would justly apply. The creation of such stock would contemplate an arrangement for the settlement of the other portion of the debt—without such concurrent arrangement the plan could not be entertained, and with it the necessity of a permanent debt is avoided—for experience has shown that when the financial affairs of the colony are healthy, loans are readily obtained at the ordinary rate of interest.

Your Committee cannot but advert to the practice of permitting loans to remain unpaid after they had fallen due—a practice which, they are of opinion, should be discontinued. The amount so placed at present the Committee have carried into the liabilities of the current year; and though the lenders have willingly permitted these sums to remain overdue at interest, it cannot be lost sight of that the colony may be seriously damaged by being exposed to an unexpected demand for an accumulated amount of such claims. If it be at any time necessary when loans are due, they might be renewed for a specified period, and so guard against the embarrassment which a sudden demand for past due engagements may create. The Committee are of opinion, however, that the amount of the debt due in each year should be ranked amongst the liabilities of such year, and be provided for in due course.

Your Committee have observed that the amount raised from the half per cent. duty, under the Street Act, has hitherto gone into the general revenue, and been made applicable for general purposes of expenditure.— That tax was evidently intended to form a fund for the defrayal of the Debentures issued under the said Act; and without prejudice to the question, how far a portion of the debt created by that Act should not ultimately fall on the property of the town, your Committee are of opinion that the amount of revenue arising from the duty imposed by the said Act should be kept as a distinct fund, and applied annually to the discharge of the liabilities it was intended to meet.

The rate at which the Reserved Salaries are paid is another subject to which your Committee are desirous of directing the attention of the House. In the year 1843, in consequence of the failure of the Imperial Revenue, out of which, under the Imperial Act 2 & 3 Wm. IV., cap. 78, the Reserved Salaries were previously payable, an Act of the local Legislature, passed in May, 6 Vic. cap. 12, granted for their defrayal the sum of £5550 annually out of the Colonial Revenue. Before the passing of the 6 Vic., the Reserved Salaries had been, and for one year afterwards were, paid at the rate of 4s. 4d. the dollar, such being the rate at which all other monies granted by local Acts were and now are paid, both at the Treasurer's office and at the Customs. In June, 1843, the Lords of the Treasury having directed that all monies received under the British Possessions Act (the Act imposing Imperial duties) should be received at the rate of 4s. 2d. to the dollar, the local Government in 1844, under the opinion of the law officers of the Crown in this colony, construed such direction as applicable to the payment of the Reserved Salaries, and they have consequently been since paid at that rate.

The legality of such payment, which is rendered still more doubtful by the recent repeal of the Imperial duties, has been frequently questioned in the Assembly, but without any definite proceeding with respect to it having been adopted; and as, by the refusal of one of the Auditors to sign the accounts of the present Collector, the matter has been formally brought under the notice of the House, and as it is desirable that such payment, if legal, should rest on some unquestionable authority, and as not warranted by law, it is the duty of the Assembly to prevent such overpayment, the Committee respectfully recommend that an Address should be transmitted to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, requesting the opinion of the Crown officers in England on the subject.

Your Committee desire to express the opinion that the satisfactory conduct of the public business would be materially promoted by a statement from the Executive at the commencement of each legislative session, shewing the position of the colony as to its liabilities and receipts.

Though not directly within the scope of the inquiries of your Committee, yet as having a bearing on the financial interests of the colony, they feel satisfaction in adverting to a plan contemplated by the Managers of the Savings' Bank for the issue of Bank Notes—a measure which, under sound regulations, cannot but be beneficial to the community. The profits of the Bank, if well worked, may be made a handsome item in the assets of the colony; and the Committee trust this important question will have due consideration at the hands of your honourable House.

The statement at foot will show the amount of the reductions contemplated by the foregoing suggestions.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Mr. O'BRIEN presented a Memorial from Thomas King, Minister of St. Andrew's Church, on behalf of himself, and as chairman of a meeting of the Congregation, and the same was received, and read, as follows:—

To the Honourable the House of Assembly of Newfoundland, the Petition of the undersigned Minister of the Church of Scotland, on behalf of himself, and as Chairman of a meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church in the city of Saint John's,

Memorial from Thos. King on Education.

HUMBLY SHEWETH,—

That an opinion has been expressed by the present masters of the St. John's Academy, concurred in by the Board of Directors thereof, and is generally prevalent, that some change is required in that Institution, in order to render it fit for supplying the educational wants of this important community.

That the system of Grammar Schools has been attended in Scotland with the most beneficial results, and that if a similar system were pursued here, your Memorialists believe that it would be attended with many valuable advantages.

That this system consists in having a separate Teacher for each of such branches of secular Education as may be deemed most appropriate for the community among which they are to be established.

That in St. John's it appears to your Memorialists that an Academy of Five Classes should be instituted, viz. :—

One of the five Teachers should be competent to impart instruction in English Literature, and Composition, and in writing.

One in Arithmetic and Geography,

One in Spanish and French,

One in Natural Philosophy and Mathematics,

And one in Latin and Greek.

That these Five Teachers should each have a distinct and separate portion of time, during all the days of the week, excepting Sundays, for giving instruction in that particular department to which they might be appointed.

That the sum of £550 sterling, now granted to the Academy, should be divided into five parts, giving to each of the three Teachers first enumerated, £100 each of the salary—and to each of the other two, £125: and that these salaries should be supplemented by Fees, on a moderate scale, to be paid by the scholars.

That the appointment of Teachers should rest with the Executive, to whom they should be directly responsible, and to whom they should be required to give in quarterly, written reports of the progress and state of the classes under their charge.

That in your Memorialists' opinion, the intervention of any Board of Directors is unnecessary.

That public examinations, twice a year, of all the classes, should take place in presence of the Executive and the public at large.

That your Memorialists therefore respectfully submit, that your honorable House should, during the course of the present Session of the Legislature, make such alteration in the constitution of the Academy, and the system of teaching pursued there, as will render it more useful to the community at large, according to the views above expressed.

And your Memorialists, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

THOMAS KING,

On motion of Mr. HOYLES, pursuant to notice, seconded by Mr. FALLE,

Resolved,—That the following Address be presented to Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonial Department:—

To the Right Honourable Earl Grey, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonial Department.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP,—

Address in reference to legality of the payment of the Reserved Salaries at 4s. 2d.

We, Her Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the House of Assembly of Newfoundland, in Legislative Session convened, respectfully pray that Your Lordship will be pleased to direct that the opinion of Her Majesty's Law Advisers may be taken for the information and guidance of the Assembly upon the following case:

In the year 1832 an Act of the Imperial Parliament (2nd and 3rd Wm. 4, cap. 78) entitled "An Act to continue certain Acts relating to the Island of Newfoundland to provide for the appropriation of all duties which may hereafter be raised within the said Island" was passed, whereby the sum of six thousand five hundred and fifty pounds was reserved out of all duties collected in this Island, under any Act of Parliament, to defray the Salaries of the Governor, or Administrator of the Government ; the Chief Justice and Assistant Judges ; the Colonial Secretary and Attorney-General of this Colony. In the year 1843 the Duties collected under Imperial Acts having failed, in consequence of the repeal or diminution by the Imperial Government of duties previously imposed, to produce an amount sufficient for the defrayal of the Salaries above mentioned, the Local Legislature, at the recommendation of the then Secretary for the Colonies, passed an Act (6 Vic. cap. 12) entitled " An Act to extend and continue certain provisions of an Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom passed in the second and third years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth," whereby the said salaries were made chargeable upon the Colonial Revenue.

From the passing of the Act first above mentioned up to the year 1844, the Salaries thereby reserved were discharged in Dollars at the rate of four shillings and four pence sterling each, but in that year a change was adopted in the mode of payment, and the said salaries were then, and ever since have been, paid in Dollars at the rate of four shillings and two pence sterling each, whereby the salaries of the several Functionaries above named were much increased.

We beg further respectfully to state that all monies mentioned in any Act of the Local Legislature, whether imposing duties or penalties, or granting monies for any purpose, are, and always have been, without express enactment to that effect in any of these Acts, (except the regulation contained on that subject in the Annual Revenue Act) received, recovered, and paid, in Dollars at the rate of four shillings and four pence sterling each, at which rate the accounts in our Courts of Justice, and in public offices, are kept, and all monetary transactions for sterling are adjusted and settled, and at which rate Dollars are valued in the Blue Book.

We beg further to state, that with the permission of the Imperial Government, the Local Legislature in last Session, passed an act repealing all duties levied under Imperial Acts, so that at present the only duties raised in the Colony are levied under a Colonial Revenue Act, by which Dollars are made payable at Her Majesty's Customs at four shillings and four pence sterling each.

Upon application to the Executive Government in the last session, for the reasons and authority upon which such change in the mode of payment was made, the Assembly were furnished with the documents contained in the Appendix to their Journals of 1849, from page 617 to page 628.

The Assembly pray the opinions of Her Majesty's Law Advisers, as to whether the change of payment of the reserved salaries in Dollars from four shillings and four pence to four shillings and two pence, was and is authorized by Law; in other words, they desire to know at what rate these salaries if discharged in Dollars, the principal and almost only Foreign coin with determinate Sterling value in this Colony, should be paid. The Assembly presume that as copies of the Colonial Acts, Journals, and Blue Book above referred to, are to be found at the Colonial Office, it is not necessary they should transmit herewith, written copies of the several documents necessary to form an opinion upon the question herein proposed.

House of Assembly, }
15th March, 1850. }

On motion of Mr. HOYLES, seconded by Mr. HANRAHAN,

Resolved,—That the said Address be adopted and engrossed.

Petition from the Wesleyans of St. John's on Education.

To the Honorable the House of Assembly of Newfoundland.

The Petition of the undersigned Minister of the Wesleyan Church on behalf of himself, and as Chairman of a Committee of the Wesleyan Congregation in St. John's,

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH,—

That Memorialists beg leave to approach your Honorable House and to express to your Honorable House their desire of establishing without delay a respectable elementary School for the education of children belonging to the Wesleyan Congregation in St. John's, and for the purpose of training Teachers to be hereafter employed in conducting Wesleyan Schools in other parts of the Island.

That Memorialists beg leave to state to your Honorable House that the number of persons belonging to the Wesleyan Congregation in St. John's is about One Thousand, and that the sum of Twenty-five Pounds granted in the Education Act now about to expire is altogether inadequate to the maintenance of such a School as would be suitable to the wants of the Congregation, and satisfactory to the Legislature of the colony.

That Memorialists have learned from the details of a Bill now before your Honorable House to continue and amend the Act for the Encouragement of Education in this colony, that it is proposed by your Honorable House to grant to the Episcopalian and Presbyterian Churches respectively, sums of money in addition to the interest which these denominations already have in the general appropriation for educational purposes.

That Memorialists respectfully submit to your Honorable House that the existence of the Wesleyan Church in this island during a period of seventy years—its present numbers—its services in promoting the public welfare—and the well known attachment of its members to the principles of the British Constitution, entitle them to that fair and impartial consideration, as compared with other religious bodies, which they have ever received from the Legislature of this colony.

That your Memorialists therefore pray your Honorable House to grant the sum of _____ Pounds to enable your Memorialists to establish a respectable elementary School for educating children belonging to the Wesleyan Congregation in this town, and for training Teachers for Wesleyan Schools in other parts of Newfoundland.

And your Memorialists will as in duty bound ever pray.

WILLIAM FAULKNER,

Chairman.

To the Honorable the Members of the House of Assembly of Newfoundland in Colonial Parliament assembled.

The Humble Petition of the undersigned, being Butchers Vicquallers, resident in the Town of Saint John's in the said Island,

RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH,—

That Petitioners beg leave to direct the attention of your Honorable House to that portion of the Bill now before your Honorable Body making certain provisions for the regulation of the new Market House, now in the course of completion in the said town, prohibiting the sale of all meat on certain days of the week in other parts of the town than the said Market House; and also prohibiting the slaughtering of cattle, sheep, and pigs within certain limits thereof.

That in Petitioners' humble opinion there is no portion of the said Market House adapted to the purposes of a meat-market: that for such purpose it is not sufficiently capacious and ventilated.

That the public health or convenience is by no means endangered by the present mode pursued by Petitioners in selling their meat on their own premises; that if Petitioners were prevented from doing so, and obliged to sell the same at the said Market, they humbly submit, such would be inflicting a great injury on them, and would likewise considerably interfere with the free exercise of this important and useful branch of the trade of this place.

That in the exercise of their trade in the slaughtering of cattle in the said town, Petitioners further submit that from the usual precautions taken by them from time to time for the removal of the offals from the slaughter-houses, the public health or convenience has not been hitherto in any way injured or endangered—and that such slaughter-houses are open to the inspection of the Magistrates of this town; and that if Petitioners were compelled to remove their slaughter-houses out of the town, such would be of much injury and inconvenience to them.

Petitioners therefore humbly pray that your Honourable House will be pleased to take the premises into your favourable consideration, and suffer Petitioners to pursue their trade as hitherto without any restriction, or do such in the premises as to your Honourable House may seem meet, and for which, as in duty bound, Petitioners will ever pray

Mr. O'BRIEN presented a Petition from William Faulkner and others, of St. John's, clergymen and members of the Wesleyan, Congregational, Established Church of Scotland, and Free Church of Scotland, and the same was received and read as follows:—

*To the Honourable the House of Assembly of Newfoundland in

The Petition of the undersigned Presbyterians of the Established Church of Scotland, Wesleyans, Congregationalists, and Presbyterians of the free Church of Scotland;

HUMBLY SHEWETH,—

That your petitioners, impressed with a deep sense of the importance to the community of the means of high intellectual culture being placed within the reach of the middle and operative classes of society, have observed with satisfaction that the present state of the St. John's Academy has occupied much of the attention of your Honorable House, and that a Bill has been introduced, and is now before your Honorable House, to amend the Act for the establishment of the said Academy.

That your petitioners are convinced that the failure of that Institution is not attributable to any considerable number of parents undervaluing the importance of securing a superior education for their children, but that it is entirely traceable to other causes which your Honorable House are now endeavouring to remove.

That under existing circumstances, your petitioners are satisfied that a division of the Institution into three Academies is calculated to promote the object for which the Academy was originally established.

That your petitioners consider the sum of One hundred and fifty pounds per annum, allotted to them by the Bill before your Honourable House, to be a fair division of the present endowment, but as they consider it to be indispensable to the success of their institution, that the services of at least two competent Masters be secured for it, (which will involve an expenditure of about two hundred and ninety pounds additional, exclusive of contingencies,) your petitioners respectfully submit to your Honourable House the propriety of an equal division between the three Institutions, of the sum of Two thousand five hundred pounds unexpended of the amount appropriated for a building, by the first section of the Act for the establishment of the Academy.

That as the present measure must be considered as only an experiment, your petitioners admit that it is inexpedient to erect three separate buildings, until the success of the measure shall have been tested; but the annual interest of one-third of the unexpended sum of two thousand five hundred pounds for some years to come, would answer the purpose of your petitioners, as it would be sufficient to defray the rent of a building for school-rooms, reserving the annual sum of One hundred and fifty pounds for the salaries of the Masters.

That your petitioners respectfully submit to your Honorable House, that to secure the success of the Institution intended for them, it is indispensable that it be placed under the management of Directors selected from among themselves, and that they deem the appointment of two Directors of the Wesleyan denomination, and one each, from the St. Andrew's Church congregation, the congregationists, and the Free St. Andrew's Church congregation, to be a fair apportionment of Directors for that Institution.

Wherefore your petitioners respectfully pray that your Honourable House will be pleased to take the premises into your consideration, and to enact in addition to the appropriation of "One hundred and fifty pounds towards defraying the salaries of one or more Masters of other Protestant denominations," provided by the Bill before your Honourable House, that one-third of the sum of Two thousand five hundred pounds, appropriated for an Academical building, &c., be granted for the erection of a building for school-rooms for these Masters, and that the Institution be placed under the management of five Directors as above stated.

And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

WILLIAM FAULKNER, Wesleyan Minister.

ADAM STUART MUIR, Minister of the Free Church of Scotland.

GEORGE SCHOFIELD, Congregationalist Minister.

THOMAS KING, Minister of the Church of Scotland.

ELIAS BRETTE, Wesleyan Minister.

St. John's, Newfoundland, April 15, 1850.

Ordered,—That the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole upon the Bill to amend the act for the establishment of the St. John's Academy.

Pursuant to order of the day, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the whole upon the Bill to amend the Act for the establishment of an Academy at St. John's.

A Message from Her Majesty's Council.

The Master-in-Chancery to Her Majesty's Council brought down the following written Message:—

MR. SPEAKER,—

Her Majesty's Council request a conference with the House of Assembly on the subject of the Amendments made by the Assembly on the Bill entitled "An Act for the limitation of Actions and Suits relating to real property and for simplifying the remedies for trying the rights thereto," and have appointed the Honbls. Messrs. Archibald and Row conferees on the part of this House to meet the managers on the part of the House of Assembly in the Committee Room of the Council presently.

E. M. ARCHIBALD,

Council Chamber, }

Presiding Member.

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Ordered,—That the said Message do lie upon the Table.

On motion of Mr. HOYLES, seconded by Mr. MOLLOY,

Ordered,—That Mr. HOYLES, Mr. EMERSON, Mr. PRENDERGAST, and Mr. PARSONS do manage the said conference on the part of this House.

And they went to the conference, and being returned,

Mr. HOYLES reported that the managers had been at the conference, and he read the Report in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's Table, where it was again read as follows:—

ing the rights thereto" for the purpose of acquainting the House of Assembly that they do not concur in the first Amendment made by the House of Assembly in the said Bill, whereby it is proposed to expunge the 18th section, because by the omission of the provision contained in this section, a period exceeding the limitation of twenty years, and capable of being extended to double that period would, in opposition to the preamble of the Bill, be requisite to bar a party from recovering landed property, owing to the mere circumstance of a concurrent right or interest in the same property accruing to him during his present estate or interest in possession before the lapse of the first period of twenty years, and without any actual change in the circumstances of his relation to the property.

That the absence of such a provision would tend to disturb titles acquired under long possession, which it is one object of the Bill to quiet and settle, and would confer upon a supine party a privilege not extended to others virtually in as meritorious a position and entitled to equal consideration—a privilege resulting merely from a circumstance by which his estate or interest in possession may be confirmed or extended, but by no means necessary to the establishment of his right of possession.

It will be perceived that the second and fifth sections of the Bill protect the estates and interests of remainder men, reversioners, and all parties entitled to any future estate or interest until the time when these respectively become estates or interests in possession; while the saving clause in the section proposed to be expunged gives to a claimant the full benefit of his concurrent interest upon a contingency creating a new state of circumstances, and enabling him to enforce his rights without injury to those of other parties whose possession in the absence of such contingency the Bill is also intended to protect.

The Council beg leave to remind the House of Assembly that the section is a transcript of a section in the Imperial Statute, and was adopted doubtless after the most mature consideration of its effect as part of a code by which rights to the recovery of landed property should be governed. And, viewing it as merely carrying out the principle of the Bill, while its absence would extend a peculiar indulgence to a class of persons possessing in justice no peculiar claim to such indulgence, Her Majesty's Council trust that the House of Assembly on further consideration may recede from this Amendment.

Ordered,—That the said Report do lie upon the Table.

The Chairman resumed the Chair of the Committee.

Mr. SPEAKER resumed the Chair.

The Chairman reported from the Committee that they had passed the Bill to them referred with some Amendments, which they had directed him to report to the House.

Bill reported with Amendments.

Ordered,—That the Report be received.

The Amendments having being severally read throughout a first and second time, were, upon the question put thereon, adopted by the House.

Ordered,—That the said Bill be engrossed and read a third time this day.

Read 3rd time.

Pursuant to order, the said Bill being engrossed, was read a third time.

On motion of Mr. HOYLES, seconded by Mr. SHEA, Passed and Titled.

Then the House adjourned till to-morrow at Twelve of the clock.

Mr. HOYLES, with consent of His Excellency the Governor, presented a Petition from Hannah Gayler, Administratrix to the estate of her late father-in-law, Thomas Gayler, Clerk of the Peace for the District of Bonavista, and the same was received and read, setting forth,—that in the year 1840 the fees appertaining to that office were made payable to the colony by an Act of the Legislature, and that the incumbents of these offices were remunerated for the loss sustained by them by special votes of the House, with the exception of petitioner's father-in-law: that being obliged to maintain the grandchild of her late father-in-law out of her own limited means, she humbly prays that the premises may be considered, and a sum of money voted her in compensation for the loss sustained by him.

Report of Select Committee in reference to Fire-sufferers of 9th June, 1846.

Mr. PARSONS, from the Select Committee appointed to prepare an Address to Her Most Gracious Majesty on the subject of the funds sent to this colony for the relief of the sufferers by the fire of 1846, presented the Report and Address which were read a first time by the Clerk, as follows:—

The Committee to whom was referred the business of drafting an Address to Her Most Gracious Majesty on the subject of the funds sent to this colony for the relief of the sufferers by the great conflagration of the 9th June, 1846, beg leave to report that they have drawn their information from the only two sources within their reach, namely,—the printed pamphlet of the Relief Committee appointed by the late Governor, Sir John Harvey, and the Official Return sent down to the Assembly last Session in reply to an Address from the House.

Your Committee regret that there has never been any account published by the Executive (except the one hereunto annexed) to throw any light upon the appropriations of the money retained by the Local Government, and this seems the more extraordinary, seeing that, on the request of the aforesaid Relief Committee to be furnished with a statement of the receipts and expenditure by the Executive, the Government replied that it was of opinion that it would be a more desirable course that the Executive Government should, at a future period, publish their own report of the receipt and expenditure of monies on account of the sufferers by the late fire, rather than embody it with that of the Relief Committee.

This promised Report has never yet been published, and as your Committee had no power to send for persons and papers, they have been necessarily confined to the two Official Documents already mentioned ; but they, nevertheless, have been afforded sufficient matter in these papers upon which to base a Memorial to Her Most Gracious Majesty ; and your Committee respectfully submit the following to the House: —

R. J. PARSONS, Chairman of Select Committee.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,—

We the Commons of Newfoundland, in General Assembly convened, beg leave to approach Your Majesty with feelings of the deepest devotion and loyalty.

Address to Her Majesty in reference to the funds sent to this colony for the relief of the Fire-sufferers of 1846.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—In the year 1846, the town of St. John's, the capital of Newfoundland, was entirely destroyed by fire, creating wide-spread distress and destitution, insomuch that thousands who were in affluence before, were, by that event, reduced to pauperism.

Your Gracious Majesty learning through the Local Executive the extent of the distress of your loyal people of Newfoundland, immediately expressed your condolence by your Royal Letter to the Archbishops of York and Canterbury, commanding these Prelates to cause to be raised in the Churches of Your Majesty's Kingdom collections of money to relieve the distresses and sufferings of your faithful people of Newfoundland.

In accordance with Your Gracious Majesty's Royal Letter, a large sum was collected, amounting in all to Thirty-one Thousand, Five Hundred and Sixteen Pounds, which was duly transmitted to this colony, and placed in charge of Governor Sir John Harvey, to be distributed, in addition to Thirty Thousand Pounds granted by the Imperial Parliament (under instructions from the Right Honorable Secretary of State) among the destitute sufferers by that awful calamity.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—We feel it our duty respectfully to apprise Your Majesty, and to complain that a great part of those charitable funds has been, not only diverted from the intention manifested by Your Majesty's Royal Letter, the views of the Imperial Parliament, and the earlier Despatches of the Secretary of State—to be distributed among the destitute, but has been positively detained from them, and other portions applied to purposes wholly foreign to the charitable design which called up the sympathies of the British nation in behalf of the victims of that fearful visitation which left our prospering city a mass of smouldering ruins.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—Whilst His Excellency Sir John Harvey remained Governor of this colony, the distribution of these funds was appropriately applied, and it was only after his departure that a widely different direction was given to them than that for which they were collected. Despatches were sent to Your Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies (vide correspondence published by order of the House of Lords)—not only misrepresenting the condition of the fire-sufferers, but absolutely falsifying their state and circumstances—which had the effect of inducing the Right Honorable Secretary to alter his first views, by having it impressed upon him that any farther distribution among the unfortunate people would have the effect of demoralising them ; and under this false pretence, his sanction was obtained to apply Fourteen Thousand Pounds to erect a Cathedral Church to which nineteen-twentieths of the sufferers do not belong, and the residue to be appropriated to public works. Under these representations, Your Majesty's Right Honorable Secretary was prevailed upon (contrary to his former expressed intention) to authorise the Administrator of the Government of Newfoundland to withhold the large sum of Fourteen Thousand Pounds collected under Your Majesty's Royal Letter, and Fifteen Thousand Pounds of the Imperial Grant—exclusive of other large sums received from the sister colonies (of which no proper account has been rendered) over which Your Majesty's Government nor the Local Executive had any justifiable control, and to divert them from their Christian and philanthropic object—“ to feed the hungry and to clothe the naked;” and to appropriate them to the erection of public works—to which the entire colony should have contributed, is contrary to the spirit of Your Most Gracious Majesty's rule.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—The funds withheld from the fire-sufferers have been as lavishly expended as they have been improperly diverted. For the mere reparation of the residence of the Governor, Four Thousand Pounds of this money were paid. For the making of a Marine Promenade, of no earthly use to the community, Nine Hundred and Fifty-five Pounds were squandered. These are instances which may be taken as examples of the manner in which the monies retained from the fire-sufferers have been expended.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—The retention and misappropriation of these charitable donations and collections have created great dissatisfaction among a large portion of your loyal subjects in this colony—not only on account of the attentive ear bestowed by Your Majesty's Secretary for the colonies on the representations by which His Lordship was unhappily misled, but particularly from the over-whelming misery and poverty in which they are plunged by the withholding of so large an amount intended wholly and exclusively for their benefit—thereby blasting their hopes and prospects. They justly feel that the immense sum of Fourteen Thousand Pounds devoted to replace a Church not worth Five Hundred Pounds, was an improper and unjust appropriation, and which no misrepresentation ought to have warranted on the part of the Colonial Secretary ; and to apply large sums to public works, while the poor victims of the fire were suffering extreme privations, are grievances of which we, as their representatives, have a just right to complain, and most energetically to pray that Your Majesty will forthwith cause an investigation to be made into the matters of this dutiful Memorial, and after such investigation, if Your Gracious Majesty shall be satisfied that a great wrong has been committed, Your Majesty will cause to be paid from the Imperial Treasury the sum retained, by order of Your Majesty's Government, from the fire-sufferers of St. John's.

Ordered,—That the Report do lie upon the Table.

On Table,

Ordered,—That the Address be read a second time to-morrow.

Be it therefore enacted by the Governor, Council, and Assembly of Newfoundland in Legislative Session convened, that the Sheriffs of the Northern and Southern Districts of this Island shall, and they are hereby required respectively to nominate and appoint in the several outports in which sittings of the Northern and Southern Circuit Courts are usually holden, fit and proper persons to act as their Deputies within their respective districts, for the execution of all process and orders issuing from the Supreme and Circuit Courts respectively.

Address to Her Majesty on the reduction of the Reserved Salaries read 1st and 2nd time.

Mr. WINSER, pursuant to notice, presented the draft of an Address to Her Most Gracious Majesty, which he read in his place, and afterwards delivered it in at the Clerk's Table, where it was again read a first and second time, as follows:—

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—We, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Commons of Newfoundland, in Legislative Session convened, beg leave to approach Your Majesty with feelings of the most profound devotion to Your Majesty's person and Government.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—On the granting of the Charter to this colony, in the year of 1831, Your Majesty's predecessor was pleased to order that the salaries of certain of our highest functionaries should be specially reserved; the scale that was adopted was one which bore a wise regard to the circumstances of the colony at that period, and its operation met the ready assent of the people at large. We are fully alive to the view that the public interests are identified with the faithful and effectual administration of the public affairs of the colony, and that to secure this, the salaries must be such as will obtain the services of capable and honorable men. We think this subject would not be compromised by a modification of the scale hitherto existing, while we are urged to seek this reduction by the reasons to which we shall now refer.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—The condition of this colony has undergone a most detrimental change since the period when the scale of Reserved Salaries was established. All the resources of the colony were then in a prosperous state, and we were unincumbered with public debt. The crushing disasters of the colony since the month of May, 1846, give us an essentially changed position; the lamentable fire in that year; the partial failure of our fisheries, and the reduced condition of the people, caused by the loss of the potato crop in the last three years to nearly the amount of one hundred and fifty thousand pounds, and this reduction has cost the colony to relieve them, about thirty thousand pounds. We have now a Public Debt of about One hundred and ten thousand pounds; and at the present moment, although we have a revenue of Sixty thousand pounds, we have very little means to devote to those objects which connect themselves with the moral and social improvement of the people, and cannot meet the demands on the Public Treasury without having recourse to further loans, and thus increasing the Public Debt.

Under all these circumstances, we are impelled by necessity to urge that our Public Official expenditure may be reduced; and we feel assured that Your Majesty will recognize the justice of considering that the means of the country should form a portion of the grounds on which this question should be determined.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—We desire strict justice, and accordingly do not propose anything to Your Majesty that we are not prepared to carry out amongst ourselves in all cases that come under the consideration of the House of Assembly, when voting for the Salaried Officials within its control, guided by prudence and justice, and followed in all other cases where a reduction can be made, as the only mode by which the colony can be relieved of its present embarrassment.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY—The House of Assembly most devotedly and humbly request that Your Majesty will be pleased to permit the House of Assembly to make such prospective reductions in the Civil List and Reserved Salaries as shall be suited to the present exigencies of the colony.

On motion of Mr. SHEA, pursuant to notice, seconded by Mr. HOYLES,

Resolved,—That the following Address be presented to Her Most Gracious Majesty:—

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,—

We Your Majesty's loyal subjects, the House of Assembly of Newfoundland, beg leave most humbly to approach Your Majesty with feelings of the most profound respect for Your Majesty's person and Government.

Address on the subject of the reduction of Duties on Fish exported from this colony to Foreign Markets.

The subject of the Fisheries of this Colony has frequently been brought under the notice of Your Majesty, and measures prayed for to protect these our staple interests against that depression which must appear inevitable under the operation of Foreign competition and interference to which the Fisheries of this Colony have been exposed. We have sought these measures of relief, but hitherto, we regret to add, with but little effect. We humbly conceive that we were justified in hoping for more satisfactory results from the prayers we addressed to Your Majesty on this important question, for the reasons which we again respectfully submit.

The causes which operate so detrimentally on our Trade and Fisheries were created by Treaties entered into by the Imperial Government with Foreign Powers with a regard solely to the exigencies of Imperial interests. The Treaty of Utrecht and subsequent Treaties gave Foreigners the right of fishing on the Banks and the principal part of the shores of this island, and the additional right which gives pernicious efficiency to the former,—that of landing and curing on a large portion of our Coast. The French have stimulated the fisheries thus acquired by enormous bounties; and have prosecuted them with such vigour that in the absence of protection to British interests they have practically converted their concurrent right of fishing on that portion of our coast extending from Cape Ray to Cape John to one of exclusive enjoyment. The concessions to the Americans by the Treaty of 1818, give them advantages of which they also, sustained by their bounties, fully avail. Were the evil confined simply to the rights of fishing granted to these Powers; the British people of this Colony would feel but little cause of complaint; for fair competition on equal terms would create no apprehension on their minds as to the result. But these Powers have eagerly availed themselves of the rights thus unwisely conferred, to train men for their respective navies, and have consequently encouraged their fisheries by enormous bounties. Our self-supporting Fisheries are compelled to compete with this bounty-sustained competition of our rivals in Foreign markets, where they may sell without loss at a price which would only yield to the British fisherman one-half the cost of production. The ultimate consequences of these evils, of which the growing increase of the Foreign fisheries makes us every day more sensible, must be apparent ; and when they are so clearly traceable to arrangements dictated solely by a regard to Imperial concerns, the Assembly have thought that their claims for redress could not have been justly treated with neglect and unconcern.

But even at the risk of being thought importunate, the Assembly feel that they should be wanting in their duty, did they fail again to urge on the attention of Your Majesty the perils to which our vital interests continue to be unceasingly exposed from the causes above stated.

We also desire to bring under the notice of Your Majesty the change made in the duties in Spain on fish imported into that country. This change, while increasing the former heavy tax on our staple, also effects an increase in the previous difference of charge on fish imported in British ships, as compared with that payable on the article when brought in by the ships of Spain. Spanish vessels entering the ports of this colony enjoy all the immunities that are incident to British Ships, and bring their produce into our markets on equal terms with ourselves; while in return we are met by a Tariff, the old hostility of which has been further aggravated to a degree which must end in depriving us of the markets which that country has long afforded us.

We therefore humbly pray that means may be adopted to cause the Treaties in question to be carried out in their integrity, by the establishment of a suitable protective force ; and that in any future Treaties with Spain and Portugal, efforts may be made to procure a reduction of the duties on fish in those countries.

Ordered,—To be engrossed.

On motion of Mr. SHEA, seconded by Mr. HOYLES,

Resolved,—That the following Address be presented to His Excellency the Governor :—

Report of the Joint Committee to inquire into the state of the Legislative Library.

The Committee of the Legislative Library beg to report that soon after the close of the last Session they removed the establishment from the wooden building in which it had previously been held to a room in the Exchange Buildings, in which was combined greater security, convenience, and diminution of expense. Here the Library was held until the completion of the Colonial Building, in which a convenient apartment has been provided, which will, of course, remain permanently for this purpose.

The Books and all the apparatus of the Library are in good condition, and evince the care and attention of the Librarian.

The Committee have recently arranged to have the Periodicals supplied to the Library—a measure which, they are assured, will receive the approval of the members of the Legislature.

With a view to the acquisition of new works of value and interest, and the progressive improvement of the Library, the Committee recommend that the sum of Fifty Pounds be voted for this purpose for the present year.

The accounts of the expenses of the Library for the past year are annexed, amount £95 12s. 6d., which the Committee submit for approval and liquidation.

Report of Select Committee on Postal Communication.

Mr. DELANEY, as Chairman of the Select Committee to inquire into Postal Communication throughout the island, presented the Report, which was read by the Clerk as follows:—

Your Committee have taken into consideration the subject of the propriety and practicability of establishing a Postal Communication between St. John's and the different Outports of the Island, a matter which had frequently attracted the attention of the late Governor of this Colony, Captain PRESCOTT, and more particularly adverted to by him in his Speech at the opening of the Session of 1841. And your Committee have arrived at the conclusion that it would greatly conduce to the public interests to afford every facility for internal Postal Communication as far as possible throughout the Island.

As to the question of its practicability, they consider that, looking to the great number of letters constantly passing between St. John's and Conception and Trinity Bays, (and the lateness of the season precludes their obtaining information from places more remote) a Postal Communication may be established along the coast, as far as Twillingate on the North, and as Gaultois to the South Westward, at a very trifling expense to the Colony; and that, in a very short time, so far from being a source of expense, a considerable profit would be derived to the Colony by thus affording the facilities of inland communication.

It has always been found that, in proportion as the facilities for such communication have been created, the increased correspondence far more than repays the additional outlay. In Great Britain this is strongly exemplified by the enormous increase of letters under the penny postage system; while even here, we find that, expensive as is the rate of postage between this and the United Kingdom, yet, no sooner has a regular transmission of the Mails from the Parent Countries to Newfoundland been established, than with a proportionate rapidity, advantage is taken of it: so that, while in 1841, the sum received at the Post-office of St. John's for letters unpaid before transmission, amounted to £595 7s. 4d., the sum received in the year ending on the first of last January was no less than £1545 7s. 3d., as will be seen by the subjoined return from the Post-master of St. John's; and the sum derived from prepaid letters is still greater.

In order, then, to extend the advantages of such communication as widely as possible, your Committee beg leave to suggest that, for the present, it may be desirable to appoint the Stipendiary Magistrates in the Outports as Post-masters until the arrangement should be more matured when regular establishments would be created; and they beg leave to offer for the consideration of the House, the following Schedule which they have prepared, exhibiting the different postal stations in the two lines respectively, north and south, hoping the House will adopt it as the basis of their proceedings in this respect for the present.

A Postal Communication may be established Northward, by running a line of Packets and Messengers, as follows:—

From St. John's to Portugal Cove	£20	0	0
“ Portugal Cove to Harbor Grace	60	0	0
“ “ “ to Carbonear	60	0	0
“ “ “ to Brigus	60	0	0
“ Carbonear to Heart's Content, Messenger	20	0	0
“ Heart's Content to Trinity and Catalina	100	0	0
“ Catalina to Bonavista	10	0	0
“ Bonavista to Greenspond	100	0	0
“ “ to King's Cove	15	0	0
“ Greenspond to the Main, and from thence to Cat Harbor	30	0	0
“ Cat Harbor to Fogo and Twillingate	100	0	0
	£575	0	0

The following line of Packets and Messengers running to the Southward and Westward, would then complete the circuit of the Island.

From St. John's to Ferryland	£20	0	0
“ Ferryland to Trepassey	30	0	0
“ St. John's to Salmonier	30	0	0
“ Salmonier to St. Mary's	10	0	0
“ “ to Placentia	20	0	0
“ Placentia to Isle of Valen, Oderin, and Burin	100	0	0
“ Burin to Garnish	15	0	0
“ Garnish to Belloram, Harbor Britain and Gaultois	100	0	0
	325	0	0
Northern line	575	0	0
	900	0	0
Total	£900	0	0

Cost of our present Postal Communication is as follows:—

Placentia Packet and Messenger	£150	0	0
Ferryland “ “ “	20	0	0
St. Mary's “ “ “	10	0	0
Postages and Incidentals	120	0	0
	520	0	0

By this arrangement it will be seen that an apparent expense to the Colony is created of £900 annually; but, when it is kept in mind that, already, for the extremely limited and very imperfect system at present existing, the Colony is charged £520, no one will hesitate to agree to the payment of £400 more to extend its benefits so widely, particularly when it is understood that the proceeds of the postage will at once greatly reduce that expenditure, and in two or three years, no doubt, not only redeem it altogether, but produce an excess in favor of the Colony: and that this chain of communication will also necessarily have the effect of relieving the expense of conveying the Judges on their respective Circuits, and also facilitating the means of inspecting the Schools, and otherwise promoting the convenience of transit to the different parts of the Island to the other public officers.

However, until these arrangements are fully matured, your Committee further beg leave to recommend that a respectful Address be presented to His Excellency the Governor, praying His Excellency to direct the Postmaster to prepare rules, subject to the approval of the Governor in Council, touching the transmission and the rates of Postage of letters conveyed at present at the expense of the Colony.

Your Committee beg to observe to your Honorable House that the following statements are grounded on the assumption that the sums stated in the Warrants have been paid to the persons, and for the purposes stated, and as found in Warrants numbered 45 to 205, inclusive.

SALARIES.

Under this head, the greater part has been paid according to the sums granted in the Appropriation Act; however there are a few exceptions which your Committee are in duty bound to report.

The sum granted to the Colonial Treasurer was £500, and the sum paid £375; and no doubt this has been occasioned by the death of the late Treasurer, as no sum is found in the Warrant for the September quarter.

The sum granted for the Gaoler of St. John’s is £150, and the sum paid £112 10s.; the cause no doubt the same as the former—viz., the death of the late Gaoler.

The grant for the Ferryman at St. Lawrence is £10, and the sum paid £15.

The grant for the Ferryman at Burin and Spoon Cove is £20, and the sum paid is £32 10s.—£2 10s. was for 1848, as £17 10s. had only been paid in that year.

The sum granted for the Second Master in the Academy is £250, and the sum found in the Warrants for 1849 is £312 10s.: but £125 of this sum is for 1848, and the sum of £62 10s. for the June quarter 1849, is not to be found in any Warrant, yet your Committee is assured that it has been paid; having seen it as paid in the Bank Book.

The sum granted as salary for the Supervisor is £300, and the sum paid as salary is £336 19s., and for Contingencies £307 5s. 5d.

The sum granted for the Presbyterian School is £40, and the sum paid is £100, but £60 is stated to be for a year and-a-half salary ending the 31st December, 1848.

PRINTING AND STATIONERY.

The grant for this purpose is £500, and the sum expended £868 17s. 3d.; the overplus is provided for in the Indemnity Bill. The sum expended in 1848 was £437 1s. 8d., and the increase appears extraordinary, but it can be accounted for in part by the sum of £191 3s. 4d. charged for Printing the Acts of the Legislature, and no doubt there must be a considerable sum charged for Miscellaneous Printing for the Legislative Council.

CROWN PROSECUTIONS.

Under this head the sum granted is £300, and the sum expended £291 16s. 8d.

GAOL EXPENSES.

Under this head the sum granted is £600, and the sum expended £754 5s. 7d.; the sum expended in 1848 was £625 5s. 11., and was then thought to be too much.

CORONERS.

Under this head the sum granted is £150, and the sum expended £257 5s. 2d., provided for in the Indemnity Act. This requires an explanation.

FUEL AND LIGHT.

For this purpose the grant was £450, and the sum expended £623 12s. 10d. provided for by the Indemnity Bill. The sum expended in 1848 was £474 5s., and in 1847 £381 10s. 1d.; surely then this increase is unnecessary.

POSTAGES AND INCIDENTALS.

Under this head the sum granted was £120, and the sum expended £115 11s. 5d.

CIRCUIT COURTS.

For this purpose the grant was £200, and the sum expended £302 9s. 8d.

REPAIR OF COURT HOUSES AND GAOLS.

For this purpose the grant was £200, and the sum expended £124 13s. 3d.

PERMANENT POOR, ST. JOHN'S.

The grant for this purpose was £2,800, and the sum expended £4,252 14s. 2d.

PERMANENT POOR IN OUT-PORTS.

SIR,—In order that Her Majesty's Government may be kept fully apprized of the proceedings of the Houses of Legislature in the Province under your Government whilst they are in Session, I have to instruct you to transmit to this Office regularly, by each Mail, two Copies of the Votes and Proceedings of both branches of the Legislature, carried down to the latest date preceding the departure of the Packet. You will be pleased to understand that this Instruction is not intended to supersede the usual transmission to this Country of the series of the Journals of the Legislature at the close of each Session.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your Despatch, No. 15, of the 10th April, forwarding an Address and a Resolution, which has been lately passed by the House of Assembly of Newfoundland, on the subject of the future tenure of Office in that Island.

2. I concur in the opinion expressed by the House of Assembly in Committee, that much future inconvenience may be obviated, if all persons who may be henceforward appointed to offices in Newfoundland, of the class specified in their Resolution, should be apprized at the time of receiving their appointment that such Offices are to be held upon what is termed a political tenure, in the event of what is commonly called the system of Responsible Government being extended to that Colony. I shall accordingly cause due notice of this condition to be given to every person receiving an appointment from the Crown to an office under your Government, which comes within the meaning of the Resolution. It gives me much satisfaction to add that I consider the House of Assembly entitled to credit for the judgment and discretion with which they have acted in suggesting that this notice should be given, and reserving for future and more deliberate consideration the question as to whether the change in the system of Administration, which has been proposed, should be adopted.

3. I am bound, at the same time, to express my conviction that until the wealth and population of the Colony shall have increased considerably beyond their present amount, the introduction of the system of what is termed Responsible Government will by no means prove to its advantage. From causes to which it is unnecessary for me to refer, the Institutions of Newfoundland have been, of late, in various ways modified and altered, and some time must unavoidably elapse before they can acquire that amount of fixity and adaptation to the political wants of society which seems an indispensable preliminary to the farther extension of popular Government. I must refer you, therefore, to my despatch of 6th July, 1848, as containing views which I have not as yet seen any reason for altering.

SIR,—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your Despatch, No. 30, of the 8th June last, enclosing a Petition from certain inhabitants of St. John's, praying for a Government based on an enlarged and extended system of representation, with a departmental Government and Executive responsibility.

You will acquaint the Petitioners that I have laid their Petition before the Queen, and that Her Majesty was pleased to receive it very graciously; but I have not been able to advise Her Majesty to make any change in the present institutions of Newfoundland, which appear to me well calculated to meet the wants of the present state of society in that colony.

I transmit herewith copies of an Act which, in accordance with your suggestion, Her Majesty's Government introduced into Parliament confirming the local Acts to which you refer, and enabling the Legislature of Newfoundland to make other provisions respecting the Re-building of the Town.

SIR,—Her Majesty's Government have had under their consideration the Act passed by the Legislature of Newfoundland during their recent Session, intituled (No. 72) "An Act for granting to Her Majesty certain duties on Goods, Wares, and Merchandize imported into this colony and its dependencies."

Although Her Majesty's Government do not consider the rates of duty levied for Revenue purposes, or the general provisions of this Act, to be objectionable, they cannot give their sanction to those parts of the Table of Duties which provide for a differential distinction in favor of certain articles when imported from British Possessions in the West Indies, of which they are the produce, or from the United Kingdom. On this subject I transmit for your information and guidance the accompanying copy of a letter from the Board of Treasury to the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, dated 5th October last, explaining the objections entertained to a similar Act which had been passed by the Legislature of New Brunswick. Those objections apply with equal force to the present enactment.

I have not considered it proper to advise the Queen to disallow this Act, because that step would occasion much inconvenience to the colony; but you will take the first opportunity of bringing the subject under the notice of the Colonial Legislature with a view to the equalization of those duties on British and Foreign produce.

TREASURY CHAMBERS,
5th October, 1848. }

SIR,—With reference to your letter dated 21st June last, transmitting, for the opinion of this Board, three New Brunswick Acts, Nos. 1807, 1811, and 1813, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to state that my Lords have had the Acts of the Legislature of New Brunswick therein submitted to them under their consideration, and as regards, in the first place, the Act No. 1813, for "imposing duties for raising a Revenue," I am to request that you will observe to the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, that my Lords conceive the enhanced rates of duty on foreign goods, for which this Act provides, to be entirely at variance with the intentions of Her Majesty's Government, or of the Imperial Parliament, in authorizing the repeal, by Colonial Legislative authority, of the Duties heretofore payable under the Imperial Act for regulating the Trade of British possessions abroad.

I am also further to state that although my Lords, taking into consideration the great inconvenience and confusion that would unavoidably result from the immediate disallowance of the New Brunswick Act, abstain from recommending such disallowance, especially as the assent of the Lieutenant Governor of the colony would seem to have been accorded under an impression of some ambiguity in the instructions which had been conveyed to the colony on the subject, they deem it necessary to suggest that the Lieutenant Governor should be explicitly apprised that he is not to assent to, or permit to come into operation, any local enactment further continuing the differential duties of the Act in question, or making discrimination in any other respect between duties on the produce and manufactures of the United Kingdom or of other British Possessions abroad, and those on the produce and manufactures of Foreign Countries without the express approval and authority of Her Majesty's Government.

I am further to observe that if the renewal of the repealed Possessions Act Duties were considered advisable by the Government and Legislature of New Brunswick, it appears to my Lords that such renewal would be more properly effected by the repeal of the Colonial Act whereby the operation of that portion of the Imperial Act has been suspended, than by the imposition of new discriminating duties by Colonial Legislation.

I am to request that you will further acquaint the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade that my Lords do not consider the provision of the 46th section of the Act No. 1807, "to provide for the collection and protection of the Revenue of the Province" which relates to the distribution of seizures, as constituting any objection to the Act; or that there is any other reason for withholding any requisite information either of that Act or of the Act No. 1811 "for the better prevention of illicit Trade."

The original enclosures contained in your letter are herewith returned as requested.

SIR,—I transmit for your information and guidance copies of a correspondence which has passed between this Department and the Boards of Treasury and Admiralty relative to the establishment of a revised Table of Fees for the Vice Admiralty Court at Quebec, together with a copy of the joint report of the Queen's Advocate, the Advocate of the Admiralty, and Mr. Rothery, on this subject.

The result is that the Table of Fees (of which I enclose a printed copy) has been recently established at Quebec, under the authority of an Order of Her Majesty in Council dated the 2nd of March, 1848.

You will bring these Documents under the consideration of your Executive Council, with a view to the adoption of any measures which the Legislature of Newfoundland may deem expedient for making the same scale of fees applicable to the Courts of the Province under your Government.

SIR,—With reference to the communications made to this Board by direction of Earl Grey on the 26th August, 1846, and 17th June last, respecting the establishment of a Tariff of Fees for the Vice Admiralty Court at Quebec, and to the previous correspondence on that subject, I am commanded by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to transmit to you the enclosed Report from the Queen's Advocate, the Advocate of the Admiralty, the Registrar of the High Court of Admiralty, and Mr. Rothery; and I am to request that in submitting the same for the consideration of Earl Grey, you will observe to His Lordship that as the arrangement for remunerating the Judge, and partly remunerating the Registrar and Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Marshal of the Court, by salaries to be provided for by the Provincial Government, and also the Tariff of Fees submitted in this report, are, with very trifling exceptions, in conformity with propositions of the Committee of the Canadian Executive Council, approved by the late Governor General, Lord Grey may possibly not deem it necessary that the subject should be further referred to the authorities in Canada; and in such case my Lords would be prepared to cause the Report to be forwarded to the Lords of the Admiralty in order that the requisite steps may be taken for the establishment of the Table of Fees by the authority of Her Majesty in Council, as provided for by the Act of 2 and 3 W. 4, cap. 51.

Adverting also to the propositions which have been submitted to the Secretary of State for modification of the Fees levied in other Vice Admiralty Courts in the North American Provinces, I am to request you will further move Lord Grey to cause my Lords to be informed whether His Lordship is prepared to make any reference on the subject to the Governments of those colonies, which would seem a requisite preliminary to the establishment in them of a similar Tariff, inasmuch as the adoption of such Tariff would involve the necessity for provision, as in the case of Canada, for the payment from Colonial Funds of salaries to the Judges and other Officers of the respective Courts.

I am, &c., (Signed)

C. E. TREVELYAN.

B. HAWES, ESQ., &c., &c.,

VICE ADMIRALTY COURT OF QUEBEC.

In obedience to the reference made to us respecting the establishment of a Table of the Fees to be taken by the Officers and Practitioners of this Vice Admiralty Court, we have taken into our consideration the Table of Fees framed and established under the Act of the 2nd of W. 4, c. 51; also the order of Her Majesty in Council dated the 20th of November 1835, which annulled and revoked such Table of Fees, so far as it had been made applicable to this Vice Admiralty Court. We have also had reference to a variety of Documents connected with this subject, and to a form of Table of Fees submitted by us in August, 1843, for the consideration of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Colonies, and we have also perused and fully considered the letters from the Colonial Office to the Treasury, respectively dated the 26th of August, 1846, and the 17th June, 1847, together with the several Documents transmitted with the said letters; and we have moreover especially directed our attention to the Report of a Committee appointed by His Excellency Lord Metcalfe, late Governor General of Lower Canada, for the purpose of revising the aforesaid proposed Form of Table of Fees, and we have also taken into our consideration the whole of the evidence given before the said Committee, together with the Report a Committee of the Honorable the Executive in Council of Lower Canada; and we are of opinion that, as it has been customary for the Judge of the Vice Admiralty Court to receive a salary for the performance of his Official duties, and we are further instructed that such Judge has hitherto invariably united in his person a higher and more lucrative judicial appointment, together with that of Judge of this Vice Admiralty Court, we concur in the opinion expressed by the Committee of the Honorable the Executive in Council, that the Judge of this Vice Admiralty Court should be paid a salary of £200 per annum out of the Provincial Funds of the colony, and not be permitted to receive any Fees from any of the Suitors in the Court.

We are further of opinion that the Registrar and Marshal should be paid partly by salary

This mode of proceeding should be discontinued, one suit only being necessary to accomplish both objects.

So also as to cases under £20, stg., settled before the return of the Warrant.

SUPPLEMENTARY RULES.

The Rules and Regulations established by the King's order in Council of the 27th of June, 1832, are not to be construed to have set aside the former practice in the Courts of Vice Admiralty, of allowing the Defendant to require from the Promoter to Libel with Sureties, unless the Promoter should be admitted by the Court to his jury caution.

From the shortness of the season of the Navigation at the Port of Quebec, and the danger and risk to ships towards the close of the navigation in the autumn, from even so short as twenty-four hours notice of Bail to answer an action, this period of notice of Bail, as provided by the 11th section of the above Rules and Regulations, shall not be required where the parties who are proposed as the Bail make Oath that they are respectively worth more than the amount for which they are proposed as Bail, or security, over and above the amount of all their just debts.

REPORTS.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE ST. JOHN'S ACADEMY.

ST. JOHN'S, JANUARY 9, 1850.

SIR.—It cannot, I think, be denied, that the St. John's Academy has hitherto disappointed the wishes of its projectors. The cost of supporting it has been great—the good it has produced inconsiderable—and the inhabitants of St. John's have evidently no confidence in the system of education there pursued. Were the want of confidence unreasonable; could the failure of the Institution be attributed to the prejudices or party feeling of those for whose benefit it was intended; it would undoubtedly be our duty to follow out the present system, regardless of any outcry which might be raised against it. But this is not the case with the Academy. For my own part, so far from being surprised at its failure, I am inclined to think that public support ought not to be given to any School conducted on similar principles; and some of the Directors are apparently of the same opinion, if any inference may be drawn from the fact of their sending their children to other schools. Under these circumstances, it seems right to endeavour to point out the faults of the present system, and to show what reforms in it are practicable; and I consider myself especially called on to perform this duty. By my position, as Senior Master of the Academy, and my daily experience of the working of the present system, I am enabled, perhaps, better than any one else, to judge of its merits and imperfections. I may add, that I have for some time given the subject serious consideration, and that I am well acquainted with the system pursued in many of the best Schools in England. I have accordingly determined to address you, as Chairman of the Board of Directors, in the earnest hope that, should my suggestions be thought worthy of attention, the matter may be taken up by those members of the Board who have seats in the House of Assembly, and a well-digested plan of Reform laid by them before the Legislature in the ensuing Session.

REPORTS.

To guard against misconstruction I wish it to be distinctly understood that I am about to argue the question on general principles, keeping entirely out of sight the conduct and capabilities of the present Directors, as well as of the present Masters, all which are mere accidents. This, I trust, will be borne in mind by all to whom this letter may be shewn; and, as I certainly do not intend to wound the feelings of any by the following observations, so no one will, I hope, be offended:—

The most obvious, though certainly not the only objection to the Academy, is the absence of all religious instruction. On the evils resulting from this, it seems scarcely necessary to enlarge; but I cannot help observing that education ought to consist in something more than giving lessons in certain sciences and languages; it is at least equally important to form in children good habits, and to teach them to act on right principles. And this is what I understand by a religious education—not mere instruction in the abstract doctrines of Christianity, but the application of those doctrines to the actions and business of every-day life. Now, as the Academy is at present constituted, the introduction of any such system is impossible: discipline in a school of this kind can only be maintained by severity, and the fear of punishment, or hope of reward, must supply the place of all higher motives—an appeal to a boy's religious principles from a person whose opinions he is taught to regard as erroneous could be attended with little or no effect.

It has been suggested that each of the present Masters should instruct a class in Theology—one taking the Protestants, the other the Roman Catholics—the school in other respects going on as it does now. Were there no other objection to this scheme, it would not solve the real difficulty. Religion would still not be treated as the rule of life, but be taught and regarded simply as a separate branch of study.

The only remedy I have to propose is—entire separation; and as it may be effected without any additional cost to the colony, nothing can be lost by making the experiment. My plan is to have three schools—one for Roman Catholics, another for members of the church of England, the third for Protestants of other denominations. Three schools are, I think, necessary—a division into Protestants and Roman Catholics would be scarcely more satisfactory than the present arrangement. I could not conscientiously teach any other doctrines than those of the Church to which I belong, and this, I am aware, would be far from being universally acceptable. But I believe that Presbyterians, Wesleyans, and Congregationalists do not differ materially in points of doctrine; at any rate, their numbers as yet do not warrant any further sub-division, as their school must in a great measure be self-supporting. I do not, however, propose to leave it entirely without endowment. I would willingly give up one-third of what I now receive from the colony as a salary for the Master, and perhaps there may be other funds available for the same purpose; but if a salary of only £100 were guaranteed, and the prospect held out of increasing this by pupils' fees, there would, I am sure, be no difficulty in finding a competent person willing to accept the appointment.

The sum granted by the Legislature for the erection of an Academy might be divided into three equal portions. Whether it would be sufficient for building three schools, I am not prepared to say. The expenses of the Academy, be it remembered, are borne by the whole colony; and for the inhabitants of the Outports to derive any benefit from such an Institution, the Masters should have every facility for taking boarders.

REPORTS.

It must not be supposed that I consider myself now by any means overpaid; but I feel confident that if the scheme I have proposed were adopted, the sum which I offer to give up would be supplied, and more than supplied, by the Fees I should receive from my pupils. But then I must have the entire management of the school in my own hands; on no other condition would I consent to a reduction of salary. What good could ever have been expected from the appointment of Directors, I cannot imagine. Every one is proverbially more conversant with the duties of his own calling than any one else can be; and it is certainly not disparaging the abilities of the gentlemen of St. John's, to say that no nine persons selected from among them can be so competent to direct the affairs of a School as a properly qualified Schoolmaster. But, were this otherwise, what reason can there be for supposing that persons who have little or no direct interest in the affairs of an Institution, should manage it better than one whose present means of livelihood, and future prospects, depend altogether on its failure or success.

Directors are, in my opinion, powerless for good, though they may cause an incalculable deal of mischief. They may misunderstand a Master's plans, and (perhaps unintentionally) thwart his endeavours to advance the interests of the School; than which nothing can be more disheartening; or they may, by injudicious and ill-timed interference, cause him to become dissatisfied with his situation, and careless in the discharge of its duties—they may, in short, make a good Master useless; but no efforts of theirs can render a bad one serviceable. Even supposing they were armed with the fullest powers, and could, at their pleasure, dismiss a Master or reduce his salary, still, all they could then exact would be a perfunctory compliance with their wishes, necessarily unproductive of any good effect whatever.

When a Master is not permitted to make rules for the School in which he teaches, he occupies an equivocal position—for a distrust is implied either in his honesty or capacity. In the nature of things, persons so situated will be extremely tenacious of their rights and privileges, and regard with suspicion anything like a further encroachment on them. Now, every act of the Directors, however delicate and cautious be their mode of proceeding, must unavoidably wear this appearance in the eyes of the Masters; and no system can be more calculated to destroy unanimity and confidence between the two parties, and consequently to impede the progress of the School. If a Master is expected to work well, he must be uncontrolled—he must neither be thwarted in his own plans, nor required to comply with rules for which he is not responsible—he cannot be expected to enter heartily into the theories of others, especially when they do not coincide with his own notions, or to carry them out with the same zeal and vigour as he would his own.

In reply to this it may perhaps be urged that many schools under the control of Directors are in a flourishing condition—none such have come under my own observation; but if there are any, I think it will be found that the Directors are content with a nominal power, leaving the actual management of the School to the masters.—But, at any rate, is it desirable to continue a system liable to the dangers I have pointed out?

All practical men will, I am sure, concur in the opinions I have advanced. In support of them I can quote the words of the late Dr. Arnold, of Rugby, and of Adam Smith. The former thus writes to the present Sir J. Stephen (then under Secretary of State) about the establishment of a College in Van Dieman's Land:—"I am only anxious to understand clearly, whether he (the Principal) is to be under the control of any local board, whether lay or clerical ; because, if he were, I could not conscientiously recommend him to undertake an office which I am sure he would shortly find himself obliged to abandon. Uniform experience shows, I think, so clearly the mischief of subjecting Schools to the ignorance and party-feelings of persons wholly unacquainted with the theory and practice of education, that I feel it absolutely necessary to understand the intentions of Government on this question."—The following extract is from the "Wealth of Nations" :—" An extraneous jurisdiction of this kind is liable to be exercised both ignorantly and capriciously. In its nature it is arbitrary and discretionary ; and the persons who exercise it neither attending upon the lectures of the Teacher themselves, nor perhaps understanding the sciences which it is his business to teach, are seldom capable of exercising it with judgment. From the insolence of office too, they are frequently indifferent how they exercise it, and are very apt to censure or deprive him of his office wantonly, and without any just cause. The person subject to such jurisdiction is necessarily degraded by it, and instead of being one of the most respectable, is rendered one of the meanest and most contemptible persons in the society."

The power at present vested in the Directors of the Academy—of fixing the rate of Fees to be paid by the Students, and of spending the money so raised, as they may think fit, ought undoubtedly to be in the hands of the Masters. And there need be no fear that this power will be abused, for it will be the direct interest of each Master to make his own School popular, and to attract thither as large a number of Scholars as possible. Accordingly, any outlay which may seem conducive to this end will be readily incurred, while, at the same time, no more will be spent than may be absolutely necessary. In short, they may as safely be trusted with the management of all money-matters, as a merchant may with that of his own capital. This, however, does not apply to Directors. They suffer neither inconvenience nor loss from their neglect or mismanagement, nor can they derive any profit from the most judicious exercise of their authority. They cannot know from personal observation and experience what, from time to time, may be required for the School, nor will they trouble themselves to see that this is either expeditiously or economically supplied. At present any addition to the Masters' salaries depends on the caprice of the Directors ; were my plan adopted, they would have the satisfaction of knowing that their income would increase with their labour ; and what an incentive must this be to exertion ! On this point I will quote another passage from the "Wealth of Nations." The author is speaking of Colleges, where " the Teacher is prohibited from receiving any Honorary or Fee from his Pupils ; and his salary constitutes the whole of the Revenue which he derives from his office. His interest" he says " is, in this case, set as directly in opposition to his duty as it is possible to set it. It is the interest of every man to live as much at his ease as he can ; and if his emoluments are to be precisely the same, whether he does or does not perform some very laborious duty, it is certainly his interest, at least as interest is vulgarly understood, either to neglect it altogether, or, if he is subject to some authority which will not suffer him to do this, to perform it in as careless and slovenly a manner as that authority will permit. If he is naturally active, and a lover of labour, it is his interest to employ that activity in any way from which he can derive some advantage, rather than in the performance of his duty, from which he can derive none."

Should a Master be found to be utterly incompetent, or be proved guilty of gross negligence, tyranny and the like, in such a case (to use the words of Dr. Arnold) " the remedy is not interference, but dismissal." Perhaps it would be advisable that the Governor, or (in the Church of England and Roman Catholic Schools) the Bishop should have authority to investigate charges of this nature, and to dismiss the Master if they were proved against him. But such powers could not, I think, be safely committed to any one else ; persons living in daily and familiar intercourse with the other inhabitants of the place might so frequently be required to decide cases in which they themselves, or their friends, were personally interested.

In process of time, if the system were once firmly established, the pupils of the several schools might periodically be examined together, and prizes or exhibitions awarded to the most distinguished. A wholesome spirit of emulation might in this way be excited both in masters and scholars.

I now leave the whole question in the hands of the Directors, feeling sure that they will give it that consideration which its importance demands. That the alterations I propose will be beneficial to all concerned, I have not the slightest doubt. Should, however, my expectations be disappointed, (and the success of any system of education depends less on its own intrinsic merits than on public opinion, guided too often by fashion and prejudice), in that case, I shall be the only sufferer. The Directors, at any rate, cannot lose by the experiment—they will, I am sure, most gladly relinquish duties at once onerous and unsatisfactory.

Eton Buildings,
25th January, 1850. }

SIR,—As it was only yesterday I, for the first time, heard the Board were preparing their Annual Report of the Academy, and as it was only to-day I was called upon by the Secretary to send them a Report, and urged, if I did so, to send it in early on to-morrow; I fear I shall not be able to do justice to the subjects that press upon my consideration; still do I deem it my duty to lay before the Board my humble opinions upon some of the matters, trusting they may attract some little attention.

Mr. Newman on yesterday was kind enough to let me have a copy of the Report he had sent in some time previous to the last meeting of the Board, and as it is not unlikely the Board would be solicitous to learn how far I coincided in or dissented from the opinions expressed therein, perhaps it would be as well that I in a great measure confine myself to that document; and therefore, with one or two preliminary observations, I shall adopt that course.

In order to be in a position to judge correctly how far the St. John's Academy has succeeded, if it have succeeded, or how far it has failed, if it have failed, to produce the effect intended by the country, in the Legislature, upon its endowment, we must look to its brief history and to the peculiar circumstances that awakened the wish originally to obtain it, and that endowed its advocates with the energy and perseverance that carried them through a struggle of years until, in 1844, their labours and their zeal were rewarded with success.

The members of the Board are aware that, in the older countries, the children of the middle classes of society, owing to the facilities afforded to persons of moderate means to obtain a good education, have constantly distinguished themselves in every path of literature; have guided the Press with towering talent; have graced the Bar, the Bench, the Pulpit, and the Cabinet; have raised themselves, unaided but by their own might of mind, to fill the highest positions in the Empire; while in Newfoundland such education, to persons in that class, was wholly unattainable, and therefore there grew up amongst them a spirit of apathetic disregard of its advantages. The highest step they could covet for their children was the attainment of a subordinate office in a counting-house, or the command of a trading vessel, and to reach to these distinctions no "education" was necessary; a moderate amount of Arithmetical knowledge, or three months' study of Navigation sufficed, and all parties appeared satisfied.

Thus were the wants of the people in that respect very limited, and such as they were, the fewness of Pension Educational Institutions rendered it often necessary that persons of considerable means should consent to have their children taught at the several charity schools of the town, and that necessarily saved them from feeling anything approaching to degradation in owing their children's education to eleemosynary institutions. The practice was begun and continued long through necessity, it assumed the character of a habit, and even at this moment is resorted to without hesitation.

It was to correct this state of things that the second Assembly sought to establish an Academy; they were solicitous to restore a proper tone to the thoughts, the hopes, and wishes of the parents in middle life respecting their offspring. They were desirous, by opening up to them the opportunity of attaining it, to awaken within them the desire for the expansion of the minds of their little ones; and with this high motive they struggled through the whole period of their existence, having passed Bills for the establishment of such an institution in every one of six Sessions, which, however, never became law.

In the Amalgamated Legislature this same spirit was breathed; and accordingly one Bill having been lost in the first Session, the present Act was passed in the second, and the St. John's Academy was instituted. Let us not then be deceived—let us look at the question as we really ought, and enquire "Has that Academy succeeded or not?" And in order to qualify ourselves for a reply, we are not to ask whether the number of pupils bear a reasonable proportion to the expenditure; but whether it has had the effect of attracting the children of those for whom it was principally intended, and whether it is calculated still to win them? And if we find that the children who have most distinguished themselves in the Academy are the offspring of mechanics or others of the respectable members of middle life, they can hardly say it is not fairly fulfilling its end; although fully to realize that grand object must necessarily take considerable time. The Academy then is doing this—it is doing it certainly, and doing it, although impeded by the addition of a thousand difficulties and discouragements that I need not here advert to.

It will be seen by these observations that I do not think the Academy has failed, but that I really feel that, with a reasonable degree of encouragement, it is calculated and likely to progress most favorably. True, there are many who may object that religious instruction is not imparted in the School; but from the outset, I have urged that the Masters should be empowered to devote a certain period of each day to the religious instruction of the Scholars—the Protestant Master to the Protestants, and the Catholic Master to the Catholics.

Mr. Newman, in his report, imagines, however, that this would not answer the purpose intended, and suggests, as the only remedy, the separation of the children in three Schools—Catholic, Protestant, and Presbyterian—while I am still inclined to think that it would silence every objection. As to the proposition of three Academies, I deem it greatly objectionable, economically, politically, and philanthropically.

It is economically objectionable, because you can hardly hope to have three such endowments made without incurring an expense very far beyond that of the existing Institution. Politically it is objectionable, because none who have the true welfare of the whole community at heart will think calmly of forbidding little children to mingle because they happen to entertain different religious opinions. If the children be then separated in their boyhood, can they be expected to be united in manhood? I might quote the opinions of the greatest statesmen that such separations were impolitic—of distinguished literary men that they were improper—of Divines, that they were wrong.

In 1839, Lord Durham, then Governor-General of Canada, spoke of the danger to be apprehended from separating children into Class Schools. His Lordship said “No common education has served to remove the difference of origin and language—the associations of youth, the sports of childhood, and the studies by which the character of manhood is modified, are distinct and totally different. In Montreal and Quebec there are English Schools and French Schools—nation against nation; and the quarrels which arise amongst boys in the streets usually exhibit a division into English on one side, and French on the other.” Divide them on account of religion and the effect is the same, save that there is far more of rancor engendered. Ten years have elapsed since Lord Durham penned these sentiments, and we find the boys who were then separated into French and English in the Schools, marshalled against each other to-day in stern hostility as men.

In Holland, education is most carefully fostered by the State, but in the Schools there is no question as to the religious principles of the children. Holland is a Protestant country, but its government is most tolerant. In the exquisite work of M. Victor Cousin, on the state of Primary Education in that Country, he gives a conversation he had on the subject with M. Vander Ende, wherein that distinguished Scholar, General Inspector of Primary Instruction, observed of these Schools—“Yes, they ought to be, in an extended sense, Christian, but neither Protestant or Catholic; they ought to belong to no particular sect, nor to teach any creed, in order that even the Jews, without prejudice to their faith, may attend them.”

No man of the present day has devoted himself so untiringly to the study of Education as Mr. Wyse; his opinion, therefore, on this subject cannot be unimportant. “To class our native Schools,” says he, “under the partial designations of Protestant and Catholic, is a contradiction. By becoming sectarian they cease to be national. We tell the child that it is in his nature and in his duty to live apart and hostile; we grow Protestants and we grow Catholics for future conflicts; and lest, if we confided to their own untutored feelings, they should seek in religion only that in which all agree, we take care to point their attention to that in which each differs.”

I have thus given the opinion of an illustrious statesman, and of a Roman Catholic gentleman of the highest literary character, upon the subject of these unhappy School divisions. I now turn to Protestant English authority of the highest character, as I have already adduced evidence of the opinions of the Protestant State of Holland. “The Central Society of Edu“cation” embraced names the most distinguished for learning and religion; among the Committee of Management we find the names of Beckford, Edward Lytton Bulwer, Sir M. L. Chapman, Coates, A. De Morgan, Howard Elphinstone, W. Ewart, Captain Ferguson, Lord King, Sir Wm. Molesworth, Right Hon. A Murray (Lord Advocate), Sergeant Talfourd, &c. Amongst the members, Denis LeMarchant, Esq., Lord Ebrington, M. D. Hill, Miss Martineau, Lord John Russell, Sir Hussey Vivian, Lord Mount Eagle. Let us see their opinion, as appears from their work published in 1838:—

“A few words,” says this work, “upon the principle of separate or sectarian Schools. It is a principle discouraged by the Governments of France and Germany, and to which every good man should be disposed; so long as children are not allowed to play together because the opinions of the parents differ, the religion of peace and good will among men will never have a practical meaning. However numerous a sect might be, we would not promote the formation of an exclusive School; an Educational Board should be extremely solicitous to bring the children of different sects together, that they may no longer grow up regarding the conscientious of other sects as moral monsters to be shunned and abhorred.”

I need only add to these strong evidences that of a distinguished Divine, published in this country in 1834, in commenting upon the strong opinions adverse to this principle expressed by the late Chief Justice of Newfoundland, Mr. Boulton, at the St. John's Charity School. The Right Rev. Dr. Fleming strongly upheld the views that were dictated by the highest sense of religion and philanthropy.

Need I say more? I fear I have already trespassed too much upon the patience of the Board, but cannot conclude without imploring them to pause before they sever the Christian bond that is being bound around the hearts of all in the Academy. I have already, in my anxiety to anticipate every objection, suggested that the Masters should teach religion; but, should they think that would not be desirable, then let them not incur the expense of two additional Academies, but let them endow the present one with three Chaplaincies—one Catholic, one Protestant, and one Presbyterian or Methodist—and let the duty of these Chaplains be to impart religious instruction; and surely, then, every objection on the score of religion that could be sought to be met by the separation would be completely obviated. I pray that I be pardoned for speaking thus strongly; I do so because my every feeling for the public welfare is interested—I do so because I feel convinced of the correctness of my opinions—because I have derived these opinions from the practical experience in the education of youth of upwards of a quarter of a century, and they have been strengthened by the experience and the wisdom of the wisest and most experienced and most virtuous men of our day.

Believe me, the St. John's Academy needs not the touch of this dangerous experiment. Let it have a fixed settlement somewhere and immediately—let it not be flung into an abode calculated to render it a bye-word; a mockery—let not the feelings of the children, of the Masters, be subjected every hour of the day to outrage—let the Teachers reside upon the premises—let the entire control and management of the Institution be flung upon them, who are responsible to the Government, to the public, to their families, for its well-being—and be assured the Academy will not fail to fulfil the warmest wishes of its projectors.

REPORTS.

To His Excellency Sir JOHN GASPARD LEMARCHANT, Governor, &c., &c., &c.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,—

The Directors of the St. John's Academy, in presenting their Annual Report upon the affairs of that Institution, have much regret in stating that the anticipations of a rapid improvement in its state and condition, in which at the time of their last Report they indulged, have not been realized, and that experience has not justified the opinions they then entertained of the causes of its apparent failure. In accordance with the views they then expressed, the Directors, at the commencement of the past year, removed the Academy from Castle Rennie to a more central situation within the town—the Fees annually payable by the Pupils having been reduced a short time previously from Eight to Five Pounds—but no corresponding increase has as yet taken place in the number of the Scholars; and a prospective change in the management of the Academy by the substitution of surplus fees for the allowance heretofore made to the Masters for house-rent, a change made as well from a regard to the straightened income of the Board as from a desire to give the Masters a deeper interest in the prosperity of the Institution, and of which change they were in due course notified, has also failed, at least hitherto, in producing any favorable result.

Under these circumstances the Directors have been obliged to seek for other causes besides those already suggested, to which to attribute the want of success which has attended the working of this establishment; and they now with some diffidence submit the following observations as containing the conclusions at which they have arrived upon the subject.

The Directors have no reason whatever to doubt the competency of either Master for the situation assigned to him; a satisfactory examination of the pupils which took place at the last Midsummer vacation sufficiently satisfied them upon this point; but the Directors conceive that there is something very anomalous in the relative positions of the Board and the Teachers, in the circumstance of the latter being appointed by, and being therefore virtually responsible to, the Government only—while the former have merely the direction of the Masters, without the power of punishing a breach of any regulation which may have been found necessary for their guidance. In such a case any interference on the part of the Board may be rendered wholly nugatory by the independence of the Masters, and a divided responsibility may thus be occasioned which, by enabling the one to shift the odium of any failure in the working of the Institution to the shoulders of the other, cannot fail to be productive of the worst consequences.

By the accompanying letters from the Masters (communications in which there is much that is well deserving of serious consideration, and which display in the writers a very praiseworthy interest in the charge committed to them,) it will be seen that upon this point these gentlemen hold opinions very different from those entertained by the Board; but notwithstanding the high authority which may be adduced in favour of an alteration there suggested, of leaving the whole responsibility and the whole power in the hands of the Masters, and of abolishing the Board of Directors altogether, the Directors cannot bring themselves to the belief that in the present case such a course would be either wise or satisfactory, inasmuch as the objection to the Board of Directors, on the ground of any injury they might do by any improper interference with the functions of the Masters, is an objection in the abstract only, and one which practically can hitherto have had little or no effect in the working of the St. John's Academy; and the example of other flourishing Educational Institutions in the Colony under similar management has amply shewn that the principle in itself, so reasonable and popular, of giving to the public, who find funds for such an establishment, the guarantee of a Board of Directors for their just appropriation, is not in itself one which necessarily indicates the failure of the scheme to which it is applied.

Instead, therefore, of doing away with the Board of Directors, as suggested in Mr. NEWMAN'S letter, the Board are clearly of opinion that their powers should be increased, by vesting in them the appointment of the Masters, and thus giving them that effectual control over the affairs of the Academy without which any proceedings of theirs can practically bear no stronger character than that of recommendation or advice. The Directors, however, would not be understood as ascribing to this defect alone the ill-success of their labours; another, and a much more serious cause is, in their opinion, to be found in the entire absence, in the course of instruction, of all religious teaching. The Directors are firmly of opinion that for an Institution such as this, designed not so much for communicating to adults knowledge purely scientific and classical, as for the instruction in the ordinary branches of a good general education, the confidence of the public will never be attained until a proportionate degree of attention is paid by the Masters to the religious training of those intrusted to their charge, and, as in the present constitution of the Academy, this end cannot be attained, the Board do not hesitate to recommend an alteration in this respect by means of a slight amendment in the Act of Incorporation.

Concurring in a very great degree in the opinions expressed by the First Master upon this point, the Directors believe that a distribution of the present salaries, with the amount annually voted for the support of a Presbyterian School, amongst three, or if necessary, a greater number of Masters, each of whom might, in the same building though in a different apartment from his fellow-teachers, instruct those of his own faith in both religious and secular learning, would restore the Academy to that place in the opinion of the public which at present it does not possess; while the introduction of a new principle into its system of instruction and the proper emulation which might naturally be expected between the different branches of an Institution so constituted, would be sufficient guarantees for its progressive and permanent advantage, and for the steady improvement of its pupils.

In the belief that these suggestions, if carried into effect, will produce that favourable change in the condition of the Academy which is so much to be desired, and without which it ought not longer to be continued a burden upon the funds of the Colony, the Directors respectfully submit them to the consideration of Your Excellency. The Reports of the Masters, and the Treasurer's Account for the year 1849, are herewith transmitted.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF LIGHT HOUSES.

The Commissioners of Light-Houses, in submitting their Annual Report, have to observe on the progress that, in the course of the past year, has been made in the erection of the Light House at Cape Pine, which has been undertaken by the British Government, and which, the Commissioners have reason to believe, will be completed and in operation in the course of the ensuing year.

But in adverting to this subject, the Board cannot but express their regret that no arrangement has yet been arrived at with the Provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, respecting the charge for the maintenance of this Light. This subject has been repeatedly brought under the notice of the Executive in the Reports which this Board have had the honor of laying before them; but up to this time no progress has been made towards the settlement of the question on an equitable and legitimate basis. The prospect of an early completion of the establishment renders it most advisable that a definite understanding should be arrived at without further delay, and the Board are not willing to believe that the Governments of those Provinces will refuse that co-operation which every principle of justice would claim at their hands. To this Colony the Light at Cape Pine is of less value than to any of the others. In the casualties that have occurred on that part of our Coast, but few have been connected with the trade of this Island. It is to the trade of the Gulf of St. Lawrence that this Light is mainly valuable as a guide for ships homeward bound, which, in steering from the Gulf for Cape Race, are set into St. Shott's by the current, as has so frequently been the case. This is a trade wholly unconnected with this Colony—and, with the Royal Mail Steamers, is the only interest to be materially benefitted by the Cape Pine Light. The Board must accordingly believe that there will be a willingness to participate in the charge to sustain it on the part of those Governments whose trade is to receive so large a share of benefit. The Commissioners would therefore respectfully suggest that an early communication be made to the proper quarter, with a view to that co-operation which the circumstances so well claim.

The Board, as intimated in their last Report, have had to incur at Cape Spear an outlay of £420 sterling. A Stone Pier, to sustain the Lantern as at Cape Bonavista, has been built, and the Establishment generally put in so substantial and efficient a condition that any expense beyond trifling repairs will not be required for many years to come.

The annual accounts are herewith transmitted, shewing an aggregate expenditure of £1410 12s. 4d., on account of the several Establishments, including the cost of repairs at Cape Spear above noted.

Respectfully submitted by

THOMAS BENNETT,

Chairman of Commissioners of Light Houses.

REPORTS.

REPORT OF THE PHYSICIAN TO THE PROVISIONAL LUNATIC ASYLUM.

The steady success of the treatment of the insane, upon the principle of non-restraint, during the past two years at Palk's Farm, has added another proof to those recently given in other countries, of the practicability of its application to insanity, even under very adverse circumstances. Yet I conceive it to be not altogether out of place to give a brief review of the causes which led to the establishment of this temporary retreat, and of its true character, lest the curative measures, there adopted, may appear to have produced inadequate results; notwithstanding the complete disuse of chains, strait-waistcoats, and every other means of mechanical restraint. For, to the public ear, a Lunatic Asylum at St. John's conveys the idea of an Institution adapted in every way to the purpose of caring for and curing those afflicted with the disease of insanity—and not of a temporary abode, where a thousand expedients are resorted to, to supply, in some degree, the requisites that are always at hand in Asylas of the present day.

I will therefore sketch in a few words, the institution, progress, and present condition of the Provisional Lunatic Asylum, December 31st, 1849.

Suggested, from the same reasons, as those which operated in originating the present country and other Asylas, in England, viz.—the wretched condition, and cruel treatment of the Insane, in Hospitals, Poor Houses, and Private Lodgings. Funds for the erection of a suitable building were voted by the Legislature in the session of 1846. But upon a very careful examination of the subject, made by Mr. Purcell the Architect on the one hand, and myself on the other, at the instance of the Government, touching the necessary accommodation to be provided for the care and treatment of Lunatics, under the system of non-mechanical restraint; it became obvious, that the sum voted (£1500) was insufficient. And having been directed to ascertain what would be an adequate sum, we determined, after patient calculation, that £3000 would be required—upon which, the Legislature, at the instance of the Government, with ready benevolence, voted a second sum of £1500 (1847.) In the meantime, a delay of twelve months had occurred in commencing the projected Asylum.

Upon my appointment (1846) as Physician and Superintendant of the Lunatic Asylum, commencing my duties by directing the organization of plans for the new building, it had repeatedly struck me, that a degree of certainty, not otherwise attainable, might be attached to the joint proceedings of Mr. Purcell and myself, and to ensure to the Colony full value for the contemplated outlay, if I could have the opportunity afforded to me, of comparing the actual state of the buildings, and of the patients therein, of the best Asylas in England, with the plans projected by ourselves for the St. John's Asylum, and its future inmates. I therefore proposed to the Government in 1847, that as the improved system of treating Lunatics had been carried out on a very extended scale with great success, since my opportunity of seeing it, in the interval between 1832 and 1837—and the arrangement of the buildings themselves had been also much improved—if the Government would allow me a salary, however small, from the date of my appointment, I would visit the best Asylas in England and France at my own expense, and so secure the erection in this Town, of the best kind of Asylum, obtainable upon the best models;—thereby preventing the possibility of a large sum being thrown away upon a public building,—useless as to its intended purpose;—which, from the peculiar requirements of an Institution affording means for the care of Lunatics in a state of comparative liberty, it would have been so easy to do.

REPORTS.

The Government did me the honor to approve of, and adopt my offer, and the reception of my report to the Government upon my return to St. John's, and that of my report of last year, embodying some of my observations at home, by the Government and Legislature, leave me no room to suppose that my exertions were without success.

Corrected in some things, and established in others, regarding my views of the system of mechanical non-restraint in the treatment of the insane, I benefitted by personal observation of the effect of good treatment, and by communication with those excellent Physicians who had practised it; and the professional architectural details of the new Asylum I submitted to the examination of the resident Architect at Hanwell, requesting him, if necessary, to furnish me with an entirely new plan, irrespective of that of Mr. Purcell and myself,—as we had no object in promoting the adoption of an inferior plan beyond the question of expense—£3000 being our limit. Upon this (although the sum appeared too small to the Hanwell Architect) that gentleman undertook to do as I requested; and further, upon the commencement of the building at St. John's, he promised to select and purchase the necessary items at the Hanwell contract prices; thereby ensuring the supply of a cheaper and better article through his experience and position than could be procured in general; and providing against the casualty of a bad or inappropriate material or manufacture being sent out. In constructing his plan, I desired him to provide for the heating of the building by steam or hot air, should its adoption hereafter be deemed advisable. Before leaving Hanwell, as I could not get the plan finished in time to bring with me, I, of course, bargained for its price; and with great liberality, Mr. Harris agreed to take £15 stg., instead of £20, which was his charge, upon my representing to him that I was employing him, in some degree, upon my own responsibility.

The plan referred to, in every way satisfactory in itself, awaits the time when the rapidly improving condition of the colony shall have so far advanced as to justify the Government in erecting the long projected Lunatic Asylum.

Upon my return from my mission, I was painfully convinced that the Government, from the embarrassed state of the finances of the colony, had determined that the erection of a Lunatic Asylum should be deferred for a considerable time. But having gone so far into the matter, upon my urgent representations, as the Cottage which had served for a Fever Hospital was still in the hands of the Government, I was instructed by His Excellency to fit up this small building as a temporary retreat for the Insane, and to commence their proper treatment, in so far as circumstances would permit. I need not say how cheerfully I set to work to effect a long cherished object, even situated so differently from what I had hoped, and reasonably expected to have been, at the commencement of my undertaking. And whatever has been accomplished during the two years' occupation of Palk's Farm, in carrying out a new system, has been done without additional cost to the Colony; for, as I showed in my report for 1848, the rent, wages, and all other charges forming the annual expenditure of the Provisional Asylum, did not amount to so much money as had been incurred under the old system in the Hospital. During the past two years my duties have been to instruct the attendants from day to day; to treat the Insane themselves, and to superintend the economy of a constantly increasing household; besides the difficult task of attempting to provide internal and external accommodation, by a sort of daily patchwork, for Lunatics in a state of freedom, combined with security.

But during the past year (1849) a great increase of the numbers of insane patients has taken place, viz.: from 23 to 42, being an increase of three-fourths. The increase of expense, however, has been but one-third, including the cost of ten other patients, treated during the year—making (as appears in the annexed table of cases) a total of 29 for the past year alone, exclusive of the 23 remaining at the close of 1848, numbering altogether 52.

To provide accommodation for 19 additional lunatics, some of whom were of violent character, and to provide also additional assistants, so that no lunatic need be confined, taxed the resources of the establishment to the utmost; and has inevitably increased the expenditure; though, as shown above, by no means in an equal relative proportion.

In 1848 it was found that the diet cost 6s. 9d³/₄. a-week for each person; but at the present date, the diet costs but 4s. 9d³/₄. each per week, the increase of numbers during the past year having enabled me gradually to effect this reduction without curtailing the allowances.

Annexed is the diet table:—

REPORTS.

I am happy to be able to say, in this place, that the comforts and care bestowed upon the insane in the Asylum provided for them, has not been without fruits. The condition of the insane is at length unquestionably much ameliorated in this country; notwithstanding the immense difference between what it now is, and what it might, and I hope, will ere long be, in a proper Asylum. The beneficial results produced during the past two years have, in some instances, fairly surprised me—much as I had reasonably expected; and I would fain that all those who feel any interest in the insane, could witness these things and judge for themselves. The amount and kind of care and watchfulness which the insane require when under treatment—if good results are expected—is both from Physicians and Attendants, however, by no means trivial.

As an example of the delicate task of treating the insane, I will mention what occurred to me a few days since:—

One of my patients, at one time a violent maniac, but latterly more tranquil, having been an inmate two years, to my very great delight, spoke to me in a rational manner; said he hoped soon to be well, that he felt a change in him, that he recollected and deplored his past state which it had pleased God to visit upon him, doubtless for wise purposes. That he begged to tell me that when he used to call himself God, and to say that God spoke in and thro' him, that it was not so at all,—only whatever had been the matter with him had caused him to say so, &c., &c. In short, this maniac was becoming a reasoning man, and as in so many instances recollected all that had happened to him so curiously, that he remarked—Doctor, you came into my room one day, (twelve months previous) and took one of the potatoes off my plate and ate it; now, Doctor, it is very strange, but the reason I wouldn't eat my dinner that day was because you touched it, and I could not bear, and cannot yet, that any one shall meddle with or touch the victuals that are brought to me. His insanity was not all gone, but a vast change was suddenly apparent. Just at the turn of the tide, as it were, was this man's mind, and a false step on my part might have replunged him into the darkness of insanity. The next day I found him repeating every word I said, as he did formerly in the height of his disease, in a mocking manner, answering nothing to questions; and I was much distressed lest the light of reason had been but a glimmer preceding imbecility or death, as is sometimes the case. In a few minutes, however, as I became silent, he turned towards me, and said—Doctor, I was repeating everything you said to me just now, as I used to do when I could not help it; something made me do it then, and just at this moment I felt it, but now it is gone. This mocking fit has not returned, and there is every hope of the young man's recovery. I have stated this circumstance of his case, to shew an example of a principle which is applicable in various degrees to all cases of insanity, viz.—the cure of the disease depends upon a watchful care and instructed observation, not to be obtained without the walls of an Asylum, private or public. What was apparently inevitable, if this mocking fit, the result of departing insanity, had caused irritation and erroneous management on the part of the person having control over this patient? The favorable moment might have been lost for ever.

An Asylum is a place of retreat for the afflicted, and is neither to many people a pleasant place to visit, nor is it fitting, at all times, that visitors should be encouraged; certainly never when prompted by idle curiosity. But on the other hand, besides the relatives of the insane, who are always welcome at fitting times, when the patients do not suffer from it, many persons would do well to make occasional visits to an Asylum, if they come as friends. Insanity would thus become better understood in general, and more sensible opinions would be entertained regarding it.

It is with the greatest pain that I have to refer to my report of last year, for a true statement of the general condition of the Asylum, as I indulged in the hope that my former representations would produce such an effect as to cause the immediate adoption of measures for the erection of a suitable building; the more so, as the Legislature did me the honor to approve of and print the report. I can only refer, therefore, to my first report on this subject, merely remarking that I have not therein drawn an imaginative picture, but stated facts which may be verified to-day.

It is, however, my duty to petition for a provision being made for the holding of religious services in the Asylum at regular periods. I believe a very moderate annual sum would prove sufficient for the purpose, even so little as £26; so that alternately, my asylum friends might each week have the benefit of attending the service of the church to which they severally belong. I have been asked by a lunatic, before the room full, "Doctor, are we all heathens in this place, as I never see any religion at all?" I should be glad of an answer, for I had none to give.

At the same time that I earnestly proffer this petition, I bear willing and grateful testimony to the occasional visits, during the past two years, of the Reverends Mr. Bridge, Mr. Forristal, Mr. Walsh, Mr. Condon, and Mr. Brewster, who have, from time to time, administered to the spiritual wants of the Asylum inmates; especially to three at the hour of death.

I feel so strongly on this point that I venture to express the opinion, that for a country to take charge of the bodies of the insane, and to leave their souls unprovided for, is the greatest of moral crimes. Several of the insane at the Asylum are fond of praying, and who shall say their prayers are not acceptable? In an appendix to my report of last year it may be seen that at La Salpetriere, as well as at Hanwell, Charenton, &c., the insane attend at public religious services with the greatest decorum and advantage.

It is with sincere gratification that I draw attention to the two worst cases of insanity, reported from last year—1st, The case mentioned at page 5 of my former report; Mary —, &c., admitted December 7, 1847. "A frightful object, in filth and rags, lower limbs contracted, knees touching the chin. She could not support herself in a sitting posture, having been lying so long in one position that she seemed to have no legs at all, they were so closely doubled upon her body. She spent the whole night and day in roaring and cursing, saying she was on fire for her sins, and entreating every bystander to throw her into the sea, as she was unfit to live. The calls of nature were to her as to the brutes. She tore every article of clothing put upon her, refused to be washed, struggled with, and struck the attendants, and seemed to be past remedy. She had been five years and-a-half insane at the time of her admission into the Asylum." This poor woman has completely recovered, and will this spring return to her friends in an out-harbor. The second case is also mentioned at page 5, of my former report, and from being one of the most distressing cases ever witnessed, her cries disturbing the Asylum night and day, almost incessantly, she has gradually improved, is tolerably intelligent, frequently reads to amuse herself, and is never affected by the dreadful pain in her head which formerly caused her frightful crying fits, and from being an object of horror to the sight, she has become a pleasing looking woman. Of the cases dismissed convalescent, one from a state of periodical acute mania, the satisfactory intelligence has reached one of the Roman Catholic Clergymen of this town, from Ireland, that the recovery is complete and permanent; and the other two convalescents, one of Conception Bay, and one of St. John's, continue in a sound state of mind.

In providing accommodation for the great increase of our numbers during the past year, and for the general safety, under the circumstance of several violent lunatics being added to the former inmates, a lincay, 45 feet in length, has been built at the back of the house occupied by the male patients, and has been divided, by very strong partitions, into seven bedrooms, thereby enabling me to separate thirteen male patients from the rest at night; and this proportion of single-bedded rooms in an Asylum containing 23 male patients, is the smallest that could be adopted, compatible with safety.

A separate bedroom for two male attendants, immediately adjoining that of the patients who sleep together, has been built, and a store-room also, for the male wards.

The privies have been enlarged, and pitched wooden drains laid down from them, in consequence of unwholesome and dangerous effluvia having been generated near the old privies last summer, about the time when the cholera was to be dreaded as a possible visitant. These drains are now so managed that no accumulation in them is possible, with ordinary attention, either in summer or winter.

At the road-side a clapboard fence has been put up, 123 feet in length, in consequence of the unceasing annoyance which the female patients were exposed to from the idle, thoughtless, and malicious portion of the passers-by. It is, indeed, to be regretted, that the Asylum is so much exposed to observation from both roads; for to such a height did the insolent curiosity of some evil-disposed persons attain during last summer, that I was obliged to apply to the Government for protection from the police, as the fences were scaled, the attendants defied, and the lunatics excited and made a mock of.

In the female division of the house an additional strong room has been built.

It having been found that the well afforded no water in dry weather, and that much time at very serious inconvenience, was, in consequence, occupied in bringing water from the river, &c., I applied to Mr. Minto, engineer of the Water Company, for the loan of the boring apparatus; and that gentleman having applied for, and received permission to lend it, not only did so, but was kind and liberal enough to superintend the tedious operation of boring through the solid rock in the well. The principal part of this labour was performed by alternate parties of the insane. Some blasting with gunpowder, after the boring had been completed, effected the necessary object, and the establishment now possesses an abundant supply of water.

In addition to the work already mentioned, a small field, of about three-quarters of an acre, has been rented, adjoining the garden, for the double purpose of keeping off the idle by a good fence, which has been put up along its outer boundary, and of giving the male patients some employment in cultivating it. The profit upon the field for 1849, as may be seen in the account, is £8 16s., which, added to the value of the fence, viz., £5 18s. 6d., is equal to £14 14s. 6d.; labor being free.

REPORTS.

In conclusion, I would observe that the constant encouragement and support which the institution has received through my hands, from his Excellency the Governor, and the rare appreciation by the honorable the Colonial Secretary, of the nature and difficulty of making the experimental trial of the non-mechanical restraint system of treating the insane, in so ill-adapted a place as the Cottage at Palk's farm, have been hitherto the foundations of its success, and for which I cannot be sufficiently thankful. But, until the Government has it in its power to build an Asylum on the scale provided for the purpose by a wise and benevolent Legislature, I cannot but regard myself, as indeed I am also regarded by some of the Asylum inmates, in the light of a gaoler, as well as a physician to the insane.

EDUCATION.

PETITION ON BEHALF OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND SCHOOL SOCIETY.

To the Honorable the Assembly of Newfoundland, in General Session convened.

The Petition of the undersigned Merchants, Tradesmen, Householders and others, inhabitants of St. John's, and its vicinity,

HUMBLY SHEWETH,—

That your Petitioners, resident inhabitants of St. John's and its vicinity, have witnessed with great pleasure for many years the beneficial results of the labours of the Newfoundland School Society in this Island, which they mainly attribute (under God) to the sound principles upon which its fundamental laws are based, and to the Catholic spirit in which the operations of that benevolent Institution have been carried out.

Instituted at a period (nearly 30 years since) when this Colony was almost without any educational appliances, it has pursued the even tenor of its way through evil report and through good report, holding out the advantages of a good education to all parties without distinction.

That your Petitioners confidently affirm this system has worked well, the proof of which is to be found at the present time in the Society's Schools, composed of children of all denominations in the localities in which they are situated.

That in a country like Newfoundland, consisting of small and widely scattered settlements, containing members of several denominations of Christians, it is next to impossible to carry out any exclusive system of education; whilst the expense to the colony, even in making the attempt, must be very great.

That the Newfoundland School Society has spent between Forty and Fifty Thousand Pounds sterling in this colony alone in the work of education since its commencement, arising from contributions made in Great Britain, in addition to the liberal support of your Honorable House, and the generous donations of local contributors.

That the Society expends annually in this Colony the sum of One Thousand Two Hundred

EDUCATION.

Pounds, sterling, beyond the sum of Five Hundred granted to it by the Legislature. By these strenuous efforts in the cause of education, aided by the well-known character of the Schools, your Petitioners hope that this valuable Society will continue to merit and obtain the patronage and support of your Honorable House.

That this Society has all the resources and machinery at its command for carrying forward and perfecting its important work without much additional outlay or trouble, in School Buildings, in facilities for obtaining competent teachers, and in a depot replete with the most approved books and school furniture.

Your Petitioners, grateful for the support that Your Honorable House has so liberally granted to the Newfoundland School Society, respectfully and earnestly pray that Your Honorable House will be pleased to renew and continue the grant heretofore made to that Society; that being effectually aided in its scholastic labours, it may persevere in its undertaking, which your Petitioners firmly believe has proved and will continue to prove of lasting benefit to this colony, and very acceptable to their fellow colonists generally.

And your Petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c., &c.

(Signed)

THOMAS DUNN,

ROBERT PROWSE, and 280 others.

Petition from the Bishop, Clergy, and others, for a separate Grant for Schools in connexion with the Church of England.

To the Honorable the House of Assembly of Newfoundland in Legislative Session convened.

The Memorial of the undersigned, the Bishop, Clergy, and other Members of the Church of England in St John's

HUMBLY SHEWETH,—

That in the existing Act for promoting Education in this colony, the principle of dividing the amount voted for that purpose is recognized as far as the two great classes of Protestants and Roman Catholics are concerned, and that annual grants are also made for the support of Schools in connection with the Wesleyan Methodists and Presbyterians.

Your Memorialists, therefore, respectfully invite the attention of Your Honorable House to the propriety and expediency of fully carrying out the principle of this division of the said Grant; and pray that in any Act which may be passed on the expiration of the existing Law, provision may be made that a proportionate part of the yearly Grant for Education, according to population, may be awarded for the support of Schools in connection with the Church of England, and under the direction of the Clergy and other Members of that Church only.

And your Memorialists, as in duty, bound will ever pray.

(Signed by)

EDWARD NEWFOUNDLAND,

CHARLES BLACKMAN, M.A., and 510 others.

LETTER

from the Registrar of the Vice Admiralty Court in reference to Specie picked up at Bacalieu in 1835.

St. John's, 21st. March, 1850.

SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th instant, enclosing an Address from the House of Assembly to His Excellency the Governor, in which they respectfully request that His Excellency will be pleased to cause information to be laid before the House, as to whether the balance remaining in the Vice Admiralty Court, due to the Salvors, as appears by the returns to the Legislature printed in the Appendix to the Journals for the year 1843, on account of Specie picked up near Bacalieu in the year 1835, has been paid over to the parties entitled to the same; and in reply, I beg respectfully to state, for the information of His Excellency, that by a Decree of the Vice Admiralty Court, bearing date the 26th of August, 1835, John Churchill, and others, Salvors of the Specie picked up near Bacalieu, amounting to One Thousand, Seven Hundred and Thirty Pounds, currency, were allowed Eight Hundred and Sixty Five Pounds currency, as Salvors in common; first deducting One Hundred and Nineteen Pounds, Sixteen Shillings, currency, withheld by them, which Salvage Money was paid to their Proctor on the 30th September, 1835, including therein the sums which had been, by order of Court, previously advanced to them, from which period to the present there has been no money or property belonging to the Salvors, or to any one of them, in the Court, or in my possession.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your most obedient,

Humble Servant,

P. W. CARTER.

REPORT

of examination of the Books of the late Colonial Treasurer.

St. John's, Newfoundland,
13th October, 1849. }

GENTLEMEN,—

Having been appointed by His Excellency the Governor to examine the Books and Accounts of the late Treasurer and to report thereon to you, we have now the honor to lay before you the result of our investigation, which we have recorded in a Book under the heads mentioned at foot hereof for your information, and for the guidance of the new Treasurer.

In entering upon the Audit of the late Treasurer's Accounts, we consider it necessary to state that we have experienced great difficulty in ascertaining the exact amount of monies received by Mr. MORRIS in his capacity of Treasurer—there was no regular Book kept exhibiting an account of daily cash transactions, neither is there a Ledger or any other Book in which the various accounts connected with his department should have been regularly recorded.

Most of the monies which came into the hands of the late Treasurer were lodged at the Bank of British North America, upon which he drew cheques; but we do not find that any account was kept by which his Bank Account could be correctly compared; in fact we find no account beyond a cash account made up in a very confused way, periodically, on the 31st day of March, 30th day of June, 30th day of September, and on the 31st day of December in each year, from which, and from other separate memoranda papers having reference to monies received, we have compiled the statement before referred to.

On reference to the Cash Account, the total debit thereof is £454,740 2s. 0d. sterling, and that the total credit is £448,478 5s. 5d., showing a balance due by the Treasurer of £6,261 16s. 7d., to meet which there is the sum of £2738 8s. 5d., leaving a deficiency to be accounted for of £3,523 8s. 2d. sterling.

We beg also to inform you that our examination has been extended to the statements handed to us of the affairs of the "Savings' Bank," and that we have minutely examined every account connected with that Institution, and find the statements furnished to us by the Clerk to agree with the Books, with the exception of a sum of £948 14s. 1d. currency, contained in the account of "Loans and Advances to the Colony."

This account shows a debit balance of £19,536 19s. 4d., comprised in the following items all brought together in the above account, viz.:-

1—Colonial Debentures	£7651 12 11
2—Treasury Notes	2228 0 0
3—St. John's Academy	157 3 6
4—Interest due on Colonial Debentures	91 15 0
5—Loans to Treasurer	} 2307 13 10
on 2 notes
No Security	923 1 6
Discount Customs' Bonds	} 6177 11 7—9408 6 11
without security
	£19,536 19 4

Under the 5th head in the above account "Loans to the Treasurer," we find a sum owing by the Treasurer to the Savings' Bank of £9,408 6s. 11d., while in the Treasurer's Books and Statements of Account we find the amount standing to the credit of the Savings' Bank to be £7,331 14s. 7d. sterling, equal to £8,459 12s. 10d. currency, viz.:-

MISCELLANEOUS.

On 2 notes	£2307 13 10
£800 sterling, no security ...	923 1 6
Bonds Discounted, no security ...	5228 17 6

Clearly showing an error of £948 14s. 1d. currency, either short, carried to the debit of cash account, and to the credit of the Savings' Bank in the Books of the Treasurer, or contrariwise an over debit to the account "Loans and Advances to the Colony," and to the credit of Cash Account in the Books of the Savings' Bank.

In tracing the various transactions of Discounts of Bonds in the Books of the Savings' Bank, we discover an entry made on the 2nd day of August last of £1326 to the credit of cash and to the debit of "Loans and Advances," without security or corresponding entry being made in the Books of the Treasurer, and on which entry the discrepancy of £948 14s. 1d. has arisen.

In giving this account our best consideration, we are clearly of opinion that the entry to rectify this error should be made to the debit of cash and to the credit of "Loans and Advances" in the Books of the Savings' Bank; as it does not appear that any money passed on the occasion, or that the sum so charged was applied by the Treasurer to the use of the colony.

The cash account of the Savings' Bank, so altered, will exhibit a balance of £8970 15s. 6d. currency, to meet which, there is at the Bank of British North America the sum of £5408 4s. 1d., leaving a deficiency of £3562 11s. 5d. currency, equal to £3087 11s. 3d. sterling; to which add the sum of £352 8s. 2d., the amount of cash deficiency in the Treasurer's department, making together a total sum of £6610 19s. 5d. sterling, to be accounted for.

We have, &c.,

(Signed)

GEORGE J. HAYWARD.
WILLIAM LASH.

LETTER

from Captain Spearman, in reference to the necessity of separating the offices of Tide and Landing Surveyor.

CUSTOM-HOUSE, St. John's, }
27th Sept., 1849. }

SIR,—The Governor having requested I would put on paper my opinion, as expressed to His Excellency, respecting the necessity of separating the offices of Tide and Landing Surveyor, in the arrangements necessary to give effect to the new Colonial Customs' Establishment, I have much pleasure in complying with that request, and I therefore repeat that, if those offices are not separated the new Establishment, in my opinion, will not only be inefficient for the purposes of the trade of this port, but that the due collection of the Revenue will be jeopardized.

I will further add, that I would, were I, with my experience of the working of the machinery at this port, required to collect the new duties without the assistance of a distinct and efficient officer in each of those situations, respectfully decline such an undertaking.

MISCELLANEOUS.

It is, perhaps, unnecessary I should here observe, that originally, I had not the assistance of an officer in the situation of Landing Surveyor, distinct from the officer performing the duties of Tide Surveyor, in collecting the Colonial Duties; and that had not the Honorable the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs allowed me, on my representation of the loss to which the Local Revenue was, in consequence, exposed, the aid of the Imperial Landing Surveyor, an officer whose office is ordered to be abolished on the expiration of the present quarter, I must at that time have discontinued my services to the Colony.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

(Signed)

J. M. SPEARMAN.

E. E. RUSHWORTH, Esq.

LETTER

from Mr. Canning, in reference to the duties performed by the Landing and Tide Surveyor.

CUSTOM HOUSE, 17th January, 1850.

SIR,—In conformity with your instructions, I beg to report that the duties performed by the Tide Surveyor at this port have been in accordance with his instructions, as far as they could be carried out, with one boat and crew. To give effect to them in every particular would require a much larger establishment, and a more extensive place of import than we possess. All, however, has been done that could be, to protect the Revenue of the Colony.

The following is a minute detail of the principal duties that have been performed; the minor ones, however, do not require any particular notice, some of which are therefore omitted in the present Report:—

That in the months of August, September, October, and November, the Tide Surveyor has been in attendance at the Custom House between 6 and 7 o'clock every morning, Sundays not excepted, and in the month of December at 9 o'clock, for the purpose of boarding vessels on their arrival, and placing on board such Tide-waiters as might be required for the protection of the Revenue, and that these duties are continued as required by the service until sunset each day, and sometimes later.

That he has kept a journal containing the arrival and departure of every vessel; shewing their name, name of the master, from or to what port, nature of the cargo, when boarded, name of officer, if any, appointed to the ship, date of appointment, date of discharge, number of days employed, and the attendant expenses; a daily transcript of the journal has been laid before the Collector every morning, for his information, in conformity with the 6th article of the Tide Surveyor's instructions.

That after a vessel's arrival, and the master has reported at the Custom House, it has been his practice, after preparing the Blue Book for the Tide-waiter, to proceed on board, and, with the assistance of the boatmen, strictly and carefully examine the hold, cabin, and all suspicious places, taking an account of the stores on board for the use of the vessel.

That from time to time, the vessels in the port have been visited by him to ascertain if the stores, left on board on the vessel's arrival, appeared to have been expended for the use of the ship.

MISCELLANEOUS.

That he has taken great care that the Tide-waiters have been at their posts, and that they have strictly attended to their duties; and when any may have conducted themselves improperly, it is his duty to report to the Collector; but none, I am glad to say, have, as yet, violated their trust.

That frequently, and at uncertain periods in the day time, vessels having Tide-waiters on board have been visited by him to ascertain whether they were on duty, and were sober, and care has been taken that they should not absent themselves from the vessel without leave; that on such visitations their official books have been examined, and the Tide-Surveyor having ascertained that they had discharged their duty agreeably to their instructions, has at all times noted the day and hour of such visitations on the back of the Tide-waiters' official book, and signed his initials thereto.

That in order to ascertain that the Tide-waiters were not neglecting their duties, he has occasionally visited vessels in the port during the night, at uncertain periods, varying both the night and the hour.

No vessel has been allowed to exceed 20 days in discharging, without being duly reported to the Collector.

When the cargo has been out, the vessels have been rummaged in order to discover whether any goods have been concealed for the purpose of defrauding the Revenue; and when all has been found to be correct, the Tide-waiter has been discharged, and the same noted in his book.

That he has taken great care to clear all vessels in due time, otherwise the Revenue would incur unnecessary expense in Tide-waiters: and on their discharge a Bill has been made out to enable such Tide-waiters to obtain payment thereof in the Collector's Office.

To give further information as to the extent of duties performed, I would here observe that from the 5th January, 1849, to the 5th January, 1850, no less than 813 vessels have entered this port, and that 2480 visits have been required for those entering only, for the purpose of superintending the Tide-waiters placed on duty, 1168 of which have been made by Mr. Moore, the past year, and 1312 by Mr. Canning—the number of such visits being principally regulated by the number of days the Tide-waiters are employed.

For the further protection of the Revenue, there is a constant look-out required to guard against smuggling in various ways, without which a contraband trade would soon become of frequent occurrence, and the offending parties emboldened in their unlawful enterprise;—such transactions as are hereby described have occurred by night, there is every reason to believe—although perhaps not to any very great extent;—and such will, no doubt, be repeated occasionally, unless a night boat be employed for its prevention,—but I might here remark that the probable expense would be equal to the Revenue lost, for want of such protection.

The duties of the Landing Surveyor having been performed with those of the Tide Surveyor, I beg to state some particulars relative to that Department which are as follows:—

The Landing Surveyor assists in attending to the Waterside and Warehousing Departments. This can be done daily when in the performance of his Tide Surveying duties—for having to call at the respective vessels while discharging, and at the different wharves, he can then observe if all matters relative to the Water-side and Warehousing Departments are going on correctly, and can see if proper stowage is made in the Warehouses, and that the Landing Officers are at their duties; and the respective Officers have frequent opportunities of seeing the Landing Surveyor, and of getting any information from him that they may require in the discharge of their duties; he can, and has frequently attended at the valuation of goods under such circumstances, and in a small port like this, all those duties can be attended to, without any very great additional trouble, in connection with those of the Tide Surveyor.

So far I have detailed the principal duties of the Landing Surveyor, as they are now performed at this port in the Outer Department.

The duties required in the Inner Department are to give attendance at the Office at such times as the Collector may deem it necessary for the accommodation of the Trade, and to take care that the Landing Waiters give like attendance, and report should any be absent from their duties when the service requires them; to see that the Collector is charged with all monies received by him on account of duties, or on any other branch of the Revenue; am required to re-compute the duties on all entries passed, to ascertain that the correct sum has been paid, to charge the Collector with the amount in a receipt book as the same shall arise at the end of each day, and compare the same with that kept by the Collector, affixing my signature to the Collector's account in proof of my having done so; at least once a week to ascertain that the whole of the money exhibited by the Collector in his cash book, as remaining in his hands, is actually deposited in the Queen's chest, and on finding the amount to correspond with the accounts, to write opposite the balance, compared, and to sign my name thereto in proof of the correctness of such comparison. But should the balance expressed in the Collector's accounts be not forthcoming, and in the Queen's chest, I am forthwith to report to the Colonial Secretary, for His Excellency the Governor's consideration; am bound to sign the Collector's weekly abstract of receipts and payments, for the accuracy of which abstract, and that the balance is duly deposited in the Crown's chest, I am equally responsible with him. I give a Blue Book, with a manifest to every Landing-waiter employed in taking an account of goods landed or unshipped. After the books are made up I examine them, and that all post entries required are made, and that the over-entries are correct, I examine the values in the respective entries on the day after they are passed; when any article appears to be undervalued, I point out the same for the information and government of the Landing-waiters—this is done to urge them to a strict examination of such entries themselves, so that no article can well escape the scrutiny of the whole department. I superintend the registering the ships reported inwards. (which is prepared for me) I then appoint the Landing-waiter, giving him a Blue Book with a manifest. (the Blue Book is also prepared for me) I then sign the book, and allot it to the proper officer to be appointed to the vessel. Jointly with the Collector, I see that all condemned goods are put up for sale, & attend thereat, and I examine the Warehouse-keeper's ledger, and all entries and papers connected therewith; also the additions and balances brought forward. Finally, I examine all outport entries, manifests, and accounts, as they arrive, and see that they are all correct, in every particular, both as to value and duty in the entries passed, and that they are properly brought to account, pointing out any errors that may be found for amendment to the Collector, for his information.

Having detailed the principal duties as they are now performed by me, in the capacity of Landing and Tide-surveyor, I beg to observe, that, together, they are onerous; although with great exertions they can be done by one individual, so far as I can judge from the nature of those duties already performed; however, I must admit that the experience I have had is scarcely sufficient to enable me to form a decided opinion on the matter.

I am, &c., (Signed)

JOHN CANNING,

Landing and Tide-Surveyor.
