February 29, 2008

In accordance with government's commitment to accountability, I am pleased to submit the annual report of the Women's Policy Office. The report was prepared under my direction and documents the activities and outcomes of the Women's Policy Office from April 1, 2006 to March 31, 2007.

Joan Burke, MHA
Minister Responsible for the Status of Women

2.0 Organizational Overview

The Women's Policy Office was established in 1985 by MC 116-'85 to:

- develop and expedite Government policies and programs to enhance the social and economic status of women in the province and ensure that these are communicated to the public;
- ensure that the impact on women of all legislation, policies and programs is brought to the attention of the Minister Responsible for the Status of Women, Cabinet, Cabinet Committees and departments;
- monitor and review programs and other activities of government departments and agencies to ensure compliance and conformity with the government policy of improving the status of women; and
- liaise with provincial government departments and agencies, other governments and advisory councils and women's organizations on all issues affecting women.

2.1 Vision

The Vision of the Women's Policy Office is social, legal, cultural and economic equality for women in the province of Newfoundland and Labrador.

2.2 Mission

Women's equality is yet to be achieved in areas of earned income and employment, social and economic security, leadership and decision making positions. Therefore, the necessity and relevance of the Women's Policy Office and its work continues to exist.

Mission: By 2011, the Women's Policy Office will have contributed to the advancement of women's social, cultural, legal and economic equality in Newfoundland and Labrador.

2.3 Lines of Business

Policy Analysis and Advisory Services: The Women's Policy Office defines policy as any action taken by government. The Office applies gender based analysis to government policy in such forms as legislation, programs and services. By applying gender based analysis to government policy, the Women's Policy Office provides advice to departments on how women are affected, how gender equity would be better achieved, and highlights needs and gaps.

Information Collection and Communication Services: The Women's Policy Office is responsible for collecting policy relevant information from a variety of sources to provide evidence based policy advice and report annually on the status of women. To meet this responsibility, the Women's Policy Office maintains a public library on women's issues, collects statistics and conducts research to assess the current status of women, as well as to identify systemic inequities and information gaps. As part of the information collection process, the Women's Policy Office consults regularly with women and women's organizations to identify ongoing and emerging issues of special concern as well as potential solutions. Beyond providing policy advice to government departments, the Women's Policy Office communicates information on the status of women through publications, events and initiatives.

Violence Prevention Initiative Services: The Violence Prevention Initiative reflects government's commitment to addressing the problem of violence in this province. The Initiative is a six year, multi-departmental, government - community partnership to find long term solutions to the problem of violence against those most at risk in our society - women, children, seniors, Aboriginal women and children, persons with disabilities and other vulnerable people who are victims of violence because of their race, ethnicity, sexual orientation or economic status. Ten regional coordinating committees, which include four new committees in Marystown, Stephenville, Gander and Carbonear, have been established to ensure representation from rural areas.

Grants Program: The Women's Policy Office provides non-repayable grants to equity seeking groups for activities and initiatives to advance the status of women in Newfoundland and Labrador subject to approved criteria.

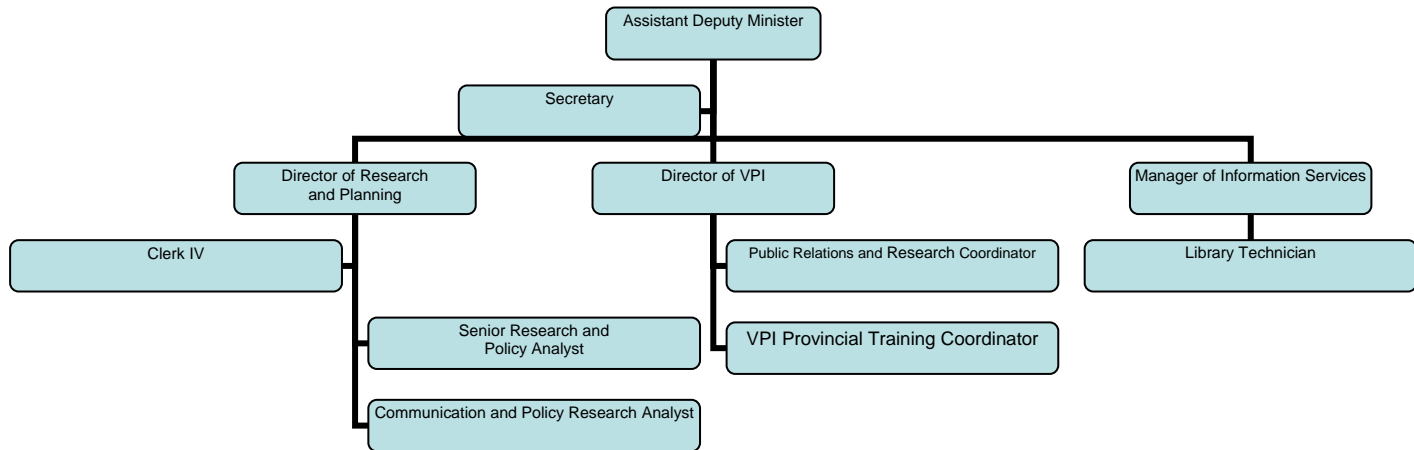

2.4 Physical Location

The Women's Policy Office is located in St. John's on the fourth floor of the Confederation Building, West Block. The Women's Policy Office contracts delivery of services to St. John's, Bay St. George, Port aux Basques, Corner Brook, Gander, Labrador City, Happy Valley-Goose Bay and Grand Falls-Windsor through eight Status of Women Councils located across the province as well as through ten regional coordinating committees associated with the Violence Prevention Initiative.

2.6 Expenditures

In 2006-2007 the estimated budget of the Women's Policy Office was approximately $2.5 million which included the budget for the Violence Prevention Initiative. As indicated in the diagram below, grants to community based organizations accounted for approximately 48% of the budget.

3.0 Shared Commitments

The mandate and mission of the Women's Policy Office can only be achieved through working in partnership with the Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women to resolve the concerns of the women they serve. The office also involves equality seeking women's organizations as well as provincial and federal government departments, industry partners and other community groups.

In 2006-2007 the Women's Policy Office strengthened community-government partnerships to prevent violence. Government partners include the departments of Justice, Health and Community Services, Education, Human Resources, Labour and Employment, Labrador and Aboriginal Affairs and Education. Partners also include the Rural Secretariat, Newfoundland and Labrador Housing Corporation, the Labour Relations Agency, and Regional Integrated Health Authorities. Community partners include the ten regional coordinating committees, the Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women, the Newfoundland and Labrador Sexual Assault Crisis and Prevention Centre, the Transition House Association of Newfoundland and Labrador, the Seniors Resource Centre of Newfoundland and Labrador, and the Citizen's Crime Prevention Association of Newfoundland and Labrador.

To increase women's earned income and employment, the Women's Policy Office works in partnership with the departments of Human Resources, Labour and Employment, Natural Resources and Environment and Conservation to increase women's employment in well paying jobs, particularly those in the natural resource sectors. This is largely done using the Environmental Protection Act to require proponents of large scale natural resource developments to put women's employment plans in place. To this end, the Women's Policy Office worked closely with industry partners such as the Women in Resource Development Committee, Voisey's Bay Nickel Corporation, Corner Brook Pulp and Paper, the Canada-Newfoundland Offshore Petroleum Board and the Women in Resource Development Committee. The Women's Policy Office also worked with post-secondary and training institutions on accessibility of training and education for women for these occupations.

To improve women's social and economic security, the Women's Policy Office worked closely with all provincial government departments to ensure that the impact on women of all legislation, policies and programs were brought to the attention of decision makers. The Women's Policy Office maintains a close relationship with Status of Women Canada as well as all Ministers in Canada responsible for the Status of Women.

Working to increase women's participation in leadership and decision making roles the Women's Policy Office worked with community partners such as the Community Service Council, Status of Women Councils, and the Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women as well as women's Aboriginal, multicultural and seniors groups to strengthen women's voices. The Women's Policy Office also worked with government departments to increase nominations of qualified women to agencies, boards and commissions.

4.0 Highlights and Accomplishments

Implementation of the Violence Prevention Initiative - $1.2 million annually

In April 2006 the Women's Policy Office was provided with a 6 year plan of action, mandate and a budget of $1.2 million annually to prevent violence in Newfoundland and Labrador for women, children, seniors, Aboriginal women and children, and other marginal populations. This program also provided funding for 4 new Regional coordinating committees to be established and increased funding for a provincial stakeholder conference.

First Provincial VPI Stakeholder Conference

From November 21st to November 22nd, 100 community stakeholders and government partners of the Violence Prevention Initiative gathered together in St. John's for the first annual stakeholder's conference. This reflected one of the commitments made in the Violence Prevention Initiative Action Plan 2006-2012.

The theme of the conference was Building Capacity in our Communities. It included community volunteers, police officers, members of the Regional Coordinating Committees, and representatives from youth, women's, multicultural, persons with disabilities and seniors' groups, among many others.

Participants learned how to raise awareness of violence prevention, how to engage people in their communities, and how to use research to educate the public.

National Aboriginal Women's Summit

Planning began with Native Women's Association of Canada and other national Aboriginal Women's organizations to plan for the 1st national Aboriginal women's summit held that was held in Corner Brook in June 2007.

Provincial Aboriginal Women's Conference

The Women's Policy office facilitated an Aboriginal women's conference held in Stephenville in November 2006. Poverty Reduction, Family Justice Services and Violence Prevention were the three themes discussed and recommendations made for government officials on how to make these programs more appropriate for Aboriginal women.

Gender Based Analysis Training

WPO identified the Gender Based Analysis Policy Training program developed by Status of Women Canada and delivered to federal government employees as appropriate for delivery to government of Newfoundland and Labrador employees. The training program was piloted with provincial government employees. Thirty seven provincial government employees from various departments participated in one of two gender based analysis training sessions delivered in 2006 2007. Participant evaluations were very positive.

Northern Strategic Plan

Plan included recognition of issues and funding for issues of importance to women and Aboriginal women in Labrador including funds for family justice services to be provided to coastal communities in Labrador, as recommended at the Provincial Aboriginal women's conference.

5.2 Earned Income and Employment

Goal By March 31, 2008 the Women's Policy Office will have supported greater participation of women in occupations where they are currently under-represented.

Objective 1 By March 31, 2007 the Women's Policy Office will have initiated activities to encourage the greater participation of women in occupations where they are currently under-represented.

Measure: Recommendations made to: (i) the Integrated Provincial Development Plan; (ii) Shaping the Apprenticeship System; (iii) Identify sustainable rural economic opportunities for women; and (iv) Strengthen requirements for major project developers to prepare and implement employment equity plans and identify penalties for non-compliance.
Indicator	Progress and Accomplishments
Determined how women's issues will be considered in the development of the integrated Provincial Development Plan	WPO met with Doug House and his staff to review the process for the provincial development plan. WPO provided necessary information regarding the status of women in Newfoundland and Labrador as well as recommendations to improve the status of women in the province.
Participated in the Department of Education's Project Resource Group to: (i) initiate an employer strategy; and (ii) increase promotion of apprenticeship and website to employers	WPO participated in initial meetings in January 2006 and recommended that the Department of Education expand its objectives to state: Increase the participation of women in trades areas where they are currently under-represented. Since January 2006, the project has focused on employer contacts, transfer arrangements with other provinces and reactivation of advisory committees.
Participated on the Marine Careers Secretariat and the Petroleum Industry Human Resource Committee to promote the participation of women in marine and petroleum related occupations where women are currently under-represented.	With representation from the Women's Policy Office, the Marine Careers Secretariat completed its project funded by the Labour Market Development Agreement to develop an action plan to address labour shortages and other human resource issues in the marine transportation industry. The action plan entitled, "In the Same Boat: A Collaboratively Developed Marine Careers Promotion Strategy for Eastern Canada" clearly identifies the lack of women employed in the industry and recommends 2 strategic objectives as well as 10 initiatives to address the lack of female representation in the industry.

	With representation from the Women’s Policy Office the Petroleum Industry Human Resource Committee delivered an Educator’s Forum in Grand Falls-Windsor. Key topics for discussion included gender equity and creating a diverse workforce. Secondary and post-secondary educators from throughout the central region were invited to discuss petroleum career opportunities. Teachers reported that it was a perfect opportunity to gain a better understanding of the petroleum industry. They learned about wonderful and exciting opportunities for new graduates at home and abroad and were able to bring these messages back to their students. Many educators described the day as the most productive workshop they have had an opportunity to attend.
Met with the Rural Secretariat to discuss the application of gender based analysis in the development of regional visions and priorities	WPO met with the Rural Secretariat staff to discuss the application of gender based analysis in the development of regional visions and priorities. Rural Secretariat staff subsequently participated in gender based analysis training.
Met with the Department of Environment and Conservation to identify opportunities to strengthen requirements for major project developers to prepare and implement employment equity plans and identify penalties for non-compliance.	WPO met with Executive of Environment and Conservation and were successful in reaching agreement to edit the document “Environmental Assessment: A Guide to the Process”. The revised wording indicates that information regarding the provision of gender equity in employment is recommended to be included in the Environmental Assessment Registration document and proponents are directed to contact the Women’s Policy Office for any information or clarification.

Objective 2: By March 31, 2008, the Women’s Policy Office will have continued to undertake initiatives to encourage the participation of women in trades, engineering, science, and technology occupations and developed and implemented a communications strategy to promote women in occupational areas including entrepreneurship, where they are currently under-represented.

Measure 1: Activities to develop and implement a communications strategy.

5.4 Leadership and Decision Making

Goal By 2008, the Women's Policy Office will have supported the participation of women in leadership and decision making positions at the community, regional and provincial levels.

Objective 1 By March 31, 2007 the Women's Policy Office will have worked with NLFM to develop a training program for women interested in municipal government and made recommendations regarding the development and implementation of a pilot training program to encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making positions.

Measure: Actions identified to work with NLFM to develop a training program for women interested in municipal government and made recommendations regarding the development and implementation of a pilot training program to encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making.
Indicator	Progress and Accomplishments
Consulted with PACSW as well as other women's equality seeking organizations regarding their perspectives on women in leadership	WPO consulted with the PACSW as well as other equality seeking organizations regarding potential direction and initiatives to promote women in leadership. However, in light of other priorities (orientation of new board and executive and putting measures in place to comply with the Transparency and Accountability Act), parties decided to defer discussion on women in leadership to the next fiscal year.
Met with NLFM to discuss the development of a	WPO was advised that the Federation of Canadian Municipalities has set a goal to increase the number of municipal government training program for women.	women on municipal councils to 30 percent by 2026. In 2006 the FCM reported that 19 percent of mayors in NL municipalities were women and 27 percent of counselors. In June 2006 released a document entitled, "Getting to 30% by 2026" which recommended various actions municipal councils can take to promote the participation of women on municipal council. In 2007 FCM will be releasing its National Strategic Action Plan for this issue.

Identified and evaluated leadership training programs in other jurisdictions	WPO has collected information from British Columbia, Nova Scotia and has requested information on women's leadership initiatives from all other provinces.
Recommended a course of action regarding training to encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making positions	WPO, the Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women as well as the eight women's councils across the province have agreed that deliberate and collective action is required to address the matter of women in leadership and have formed a committee. The purpose of the Women in Leadership Committee is to recommend a strategy to build capacity and encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making positions. The Committee will is comprised of 5 members: (i) one representative of the Women's Policy Office who will serve as Chair of the Committee; (ii) two representatives from the Provincial Advisory Council on the Status of Women; and (iii) two representatives of the women's councils across the province.

Objective 2: By March 31, 2008, the Women's Policy Office will have developed and implemented a communications strategy to encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making positions.

Measure: Activities to enhance individual department's participation in advancing the status of women.
Indicators
Make recommendations regarding the development and implementation of a pilot training program to encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making positions.
Develop and implement a communications strategy to encourage women's participation in leadership and decision making positions.

6.0 Opportunities and Challenges Ahead

Challenges:

- Federal Cuts to Status of Women Canada: Women's groups will not receive the same project funding from Status of Women Canada as they did in the past. This will mean more pressure will be put on the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador to increase funding.
- Increase in Youth Violence: A Statistics Canada report released in June 2007 states that youth violence is increasing across Canada.
- Poverty Reduction Issues: A number of women's groups are unhappy with the increase in minimum wage – most want to see the wage increased to $10/hour. Also, there is a housing shortage across Newfoundland and Labrador.

Opportunities:

- Increase the number of women in positions of leadership: A focus can be placed on Federal politics as an election is expected before year end or early 2008.
- Gender Based Analysis: In Budget 2007, WPO received an additional $35,000 for training and the implementation of Gender Based Analysis.
- Aboriginal Women: WPO has been working very closely with Aboriginal women to help them find solutions to the issues that effect their communities. We have participated in the National Aboriginal Women's Summit in June 2007 and will continue to host the annual Provincial Aboriginal Women's Conference in Newfoundland and Labrador. In Budget 2007, WPO received an additional $40,000 to assist in execution of the annual conference and was also given an additional $100,000 for violence prevention projects in Aboriginal communities.
- F/P/T: Minister Burke continues to be a leader at F/P/T meetings. She has been very influential on the topic of parental benefits and Aboriginals issues.
