for Number 1000 Islands

- with leave

Hutton says he will draw on both his experience as an advisor to Premier Andrew Furey and his decades as a journalist if he is elected. (Sarah Blackmore/CBC)

Hutton said Wabana's town council has provided him with a list of roads that need maintenance and he would have the sway to ensure the road work is completed.

"When I am your MHA, I will be able to pick up the phone and call the transportation minister and say, 'These roads ... need to be done in this year's budget,' and they will be done," Hutton said.
