As part of its mandate to manage the mineral resources of the province, the Department of Natural Resources is responsible for the administration of mineral land tenure. This is achieved through the issuance of mineral licenses, mining leases and surfaces leases under the Mineral Act.

A mineral license conveys to the license holder the exclusive right to explore for minerals over the area defined in the license. During the period covered by this report, the Department issued 1,245 mineral licenses covering 73,764 claims. These licenses consist of any number of coterminous claims to a maximum of 256 per license.

Mineral licenses are issued for a term of five years. However, a mineral license can be extended for three, five-year terms and is referred to as an extended license.

Prior to September 1, 1995, mineral rights were acquired by ground staking in Newfoundland and map staking in Labrador; after that date mineral rights everywhere in the province could only be acquired by map staking. On February 28, 2005, the province put into production a new Mineral Rights Administration System (MIRIAD). The province is one of only three jurisdictions in Canada where mineral rights can be acquired online, regardless of geographic location and at any time. The system uses a predetermined 500 m square grid with one claim unit comprising 25 hectares. As well, the system requires the use of credit card for the online payment of fees.

At the end of March 2008, a total of 189, 777 claims were in good standing. This total is comprised of 109,147 claims in Labrador and 80,630 claims in Newfoundland.

The holder of a mineral license may apply for a mining lease to all or a portion of the license, subject to certain prerequisites in the Mineral Act. A mining lease conveys the exclusive right to commercially extract minerals. Mining leases issued pursuant to mineral licenses require a legal boundary survey by a registered Newfoundland and Labrador land surveyor. During the period of this report the Department issued 4 mining leases.

The holder of a mining lease may apply for a surface lease to all or a portion of the lease. A surface lease enables the lessee to implement the obligations imposed upon the lessee under the mining lease. Surface leases also require a legal boundary survey. During the period of this report the Department did not issue a surface lease.

The Mineral Act, as per Section 3, requires that a report be prepared each fiscal year which contains the number of licenses and leases issued, the names of all licensees and lessees to whom licenses and leases were issued, the location and the area or approximate area of land covered by each license and lease.

Herewith is the report for the year 2007 - 2008.

INTRODUCTION FOR THE STATUTORY REPORT OF MINERAL LICENSES AND MINING AND SURFACE LEASES

The total expenditure on mineral exploration from January 1 to December 31, 2007, as determined from the preliminary annual Provincial - Federal Survey on mineral exploration, was $138 million; this contrasts to $97.6 million from January 1 to December 31, 2006. This is due to significant increases in exploration expenditures on base metals and iron ore, and a major increase in similar expenditures for uranium. Expenditures for 2008 are forecast to be $133 million. Of the $133 million, $76 million will be spent in Labrador and $57 million will be spent on the island (Figure 1); $86 million will be directed toward more advanced projects and $60.7 million will be directed toward grassroots projects.

The statistics for claims staked in 2007 (79,206) indicates a continued increase from 2006 levels (57,512). As well, the number of claims in good standing at the end of 2007 was 189,283; 111,149 in Labrador and 78,134 in Newfoundland; these are the highest number of claims in good standing, post the Voisey's Bay nickel-copper-cobalt discovery. It is forecast that 50,000 claims will be staked in 2008 (Figure 2).

Exploration efforts in the province in 2007 were principally directed toward base-metal prospects (nickel, copper, zinc, lead, cobalt) and uranium, each having investments of about $ 63 million. Investment in other mineral commodities, including iron ore ($5 million) and precious metals (gold, platinum and palladium - $7 million), will total about $12 million.

Areas with active base-metal exploration programs include the Voisey's Bay area of Labrador, the Buchans to Baie Verte area including Pilley's Island, Daniels Harbour, the Duck Pond area, the Long Lake area, Great Burnt Lake, the Point Leamington area, the area north of Stephenville, the Codroy Valley, the Upper Humber River area and the Hughes Brook - Corner Brook area. (Figures 3 and 6).

Uranium and other mineral commodity projects being explored in Labrador include uranium in the Makkovik area, north of Lake Melville and in the Barge Bay area, at Sims Lake and Montgomery Lake; western Labrador, at Strange Lake; west of Nain, and at Flowers Bay West; south of Nain, garnet in northern Labrador at Hutton Beach; nepheline and marble along the Trans Labrador Highway near the Cache River; titanium in the vicinity of Happy Valley - Goose Bay; and iron ore, graphite, kyanite, silica, garnet and dimension stone in western Labrador. In Newfoundland, projects include uranium in southern Newfoundland; uranium east of Stephenville; uranium in the Topsail's area and on the Baie Verte Peninsula; antimony at Beaver Brook southwest of Glenwood; marble at Roddickton; uranium, marble and sandstone at Deer Lake; salt, gypsum and uranium in the Bay St. George's area; limestone and dolomite on the Port au Port Peninsula; limestone and uranium in White Bay; garnet, kyanite and mica in the Corner Brook Lake area; slate in Trinity and Bonavista bays; soapstone and virginite on the Baie Verte Peninsula; granite in central Newfoundland; tungsten at Grey River and Granite Lake; molybdenum at Grey River, at Lloyd's Lake, central Newfoundland and Terra Nova River, eastern Newfoundland; uranium at St. Lawrence; silica at English Harbour West and uranium at Rencontre, southern Newfoundland (Figures 4 and 6).

Exploration for precious metals, primarily gold, include the Valentine Lake area southwest of Buchans, the Botwood Basin, at Great Rattling Brook, the Badger area, the Baie Verte - Springdale region, the Cape Ray area, the Hope Brook area, the Avalon and Burin peninsulas, the Grey River area, the St. Alban's area, the Benton area, the Flat Bay Brook area, the Glover Island area, the Taylor's Mountain area, the Gregory River area and Jackson's Arm, White Bay. Grassroots exploration for platinum and palladium is being carried out in the Flat Bay Brook area, in the Gander Bay area and in western Labrador (Figures 5 and 6).

Many of these exploration programs are being carried out by Canadian and local junior mining companies, as well as major Canadian and international mining companies. In addition, the number of prospectors active in the province decreased slightly in 2007. The prospecting community continues to make significant mineral discoveries and attract new investment. During this report period, 297 individual residents of the province hold designation as "Genuine Prospectors" under the Mineral Act.

On April 29, 2008, Government announced continued support for its Mineral Incentive Program. The proposed budget for the Mineral Incentive Program for the upcoming fiscal year is $ 2.5 million. The program is designed to stimulate mineral exploration by providing support to prospectors ($250,000), junior mineral exploration companies ($2 million) and to natural stone exploration companies ($250,000). During the period of this report, 50 prospector grants were awarded ($190,000), 17 projects were supported under Junior Exploration Assistance ($2.1 million) and 4 projects were supported under the Natural Stone Assessment Program ($35,000). The support provided under Junior Company Assistance resulted in the combined total expenditure of more than $8.1 million by industry.

The government applies a variety of fees and rentals in connection with the administration of licenses and leases issued under the Mineral Act and its regulations. These are outlined in Table 1; during this period, revenues collected from these sources totaled just over $2.5 million, and are shown in Table 2.

The attached charts, maps, and appendices provide further details on claims, mineral licenses and mining leases in the province. Specific details on mineral licenses and mining leases issued during this report period are tabulated in Appendices A and B.
